The 1974
Buccaneer Yearbook Is Dedicated to the Class of 1974

Since the yearbook is dedicated to the Seniors, let's look back at the class as they started the first grade.

Since this Yearbook is dedicated to the Seniors, let's find out what was happening when they first came into this world 18 years ago. We're going to turn back the hands of time to the 1956, where we find ourselves at the New York Times. Hot news is rolling off the presses as we see the headlines now . . .

JOHNNY CARSON SHOW

AMERICAN BANDSTAND

CAPTAIN KANGAROO

Teenagers had a favorite TV show of their own in Dick Clark's afternoon American Bandstand program. Teens could dance to the tunes of the latest rock and roll recording hits, as well as be entertained by guests like Fabian, Little Anthony, Frankie Avalon and Chubby Checker, who made frequent appearances on the show. Beginning as a local show in Philadelphia in 1956, it gradually became network broadcasting the following year. In 1958 ABC presented an evening version, but it proved less popular than in its afternoon spot, in which, after a few months, Clark moved the show.
But now, as our Seniors graduate, the year is 1974. And what a year it was! The heavy headlines looked something like this . . .

The past seven years as head football coach at Covington have been very rewarding ones. There have been events and happenings that I will remember for the rest of my life. During these seven years football has been the focal point of my life, and I have really enjoyed it. But, like all good things that must come to an end, I felt this was the proper time to give up coaching.

The decision to resign from coaching was not a snap decision, I knew at the beginning of the 1973 season that this would be my last. It seems almost ironic that the 1973 team was the best team I have ever coached, and that the best played game of the year was Urbana, the last game of the season. This was a wonderful spot to stop.

Throughout the past seven years I have been in contact with many great young men, both as men and as football players. I hope that I influenced them in a positive way. As a last act as football coach, I would like to present my all-star team of players from my tenure as football coach at Covington.

I am sure we can clap if we really concentrate.

Fall not only brought football, homecoming and a class play. It brought us back to the classroom with the enthusiasm of students and teachers for a new year.

I have the answer!!

Class of 75

The Junior class was involved in many activities this year. We ran the concession stand at the park during the summer, worked on the paper drive with the Key Club, sponsored dances, and sold refreshments at the basketball games. Our sales projects included jerseys, jackets, candy, and many bake sales. The Juniors have worked hard for a Prom that we hope everyone enjoyed.

Working together to raise money for our Prom was the biggest goal of the Class of 1977. To achieve this, we had two main fund-raising projects during the year. In October we sold humorous and all-occasion cards. Then, during the spring we sold candy. We were successful in achieving our goal for our freshman year.
Administration

It is a pleasure to recall the many memorable moments of life at Covington High School during the past year. Our school environment provides a wonderful opportunity for the sharing of curricular and extra-curricular experiences which continue and encourage the fine Covington tradition.

The 1974 Buccaneer clearly illustrates the people and events that comprise what we know as "Buccaneer Country."

I extend a sincere thanks to the 1974 Buccaneer staff for giving us an entertaining review of the past; however, to the Class of '74 a special word of praise for their responsible leadership and cooperation which gives promise of a brilliant future for our school and community.

Good Luck,
W. Dean Pond
Principal

The Buccaneer has grown out of a compelling need to capture, preserve, and extend the rich memories of the school year. How wonderful it will be to ponder these pages in years to come.

I extend my sincere congratulations to the yearbook staff and best wishes to the graduates.

The C.H.S. Band has been very active the past season. During the summer they participated in the Firemans Convention Parade and the Poultry Day Parade. During August they attended band camp at Bluffton College preparing for marching show competitions. These competitions included the Fairborn Invitational, Dark County Fair and State Fair and the Pork Festival. Along with doing half-time shows at the football games we appeared in several fall parades like the Miami County Fair, The Tipp City Mum Festival, The Troy Fire Prevention Parade and the Halloween Parade. During spring, band members participated in Solo and Ensemble Contest and the Concert Band in the District Band Contest.
