Will Hess Found at Noon

Found on Platform of Pump Shed at 12:30—Became Sick While Working

THERE IS GREAT REJOICING THIS AFTERNOON AT THE HOME OF WILLIAM HESS, FOR WHOM THE ENTIRE NEIGHBORHOOD HAS BEEN SEARCHING DURING THE LAST TWENTY-FOUR HOURS.

THE MAN, WHO HAD SUDDENLY TAKEN SICK WHILE AT WORK YESTERDAY MORNING IN THE NEW GROUND ON HIS FARM, WAS ABLE TO DRAG HIMSELF TO THE HOUSE, WHERE HE WAS FOUND WHILE THE FAMILY WAS AT DINNER TODAY.

HE IS NOW RECEIVING MEDICAL ATTENTION FROM DR. H. W. KENDALL, WHO WAS IMMEDIATELY CALLED TO HIS SIDE.

The twenty-four hour mystery, which centered in the disappearance of William Hess, 44, well known Newton Township farmer, who disappeared from his home yesterday morning, and for whom a large posse headed by the Sheriff of Miami county, has been keeping up a constant search, was solved at 12:30 this afternoon, when the missing man, who was suddenly taken ill while working in a piece of new ground on his farm, was able to drag himself as far as an out building, where he discovered a few moments later by a member of the family.

For the past twenty-four hours a ceaselessly useless search has been conducted to locate William Hess, who resides about three miles southwest of Covington, and who was reported missing yesterday morning.

He had gone toward the woods on the south part of his farm with the idea of helping some fence, keeping his horse about 10 o'clock yesterday morning. When he failed to return, his family started looking for him. His wife and children made a search for him, but were unable to find him.

Neighbors were notified, and the search was continued throughout the day and evening. He was reported to have been seen in the woods by a neighbor, Charles Hufnagel.

The search was continued all night, and by dawn the entire neighborhood was notified. With the exception of one report of 40 roosters at 6 A.M. on Monday morning, the only trace of the man was found in the woods. A search of the woods was made, but without result. Farmers were notified to look for him over farms for miles around.

At 12:30 this afternoon, the search was called off, and the sheriff's posse and a considerable number of the farmers who had been combing the woods with him were очередные. Several farmers reported that they had seen him from time to time, but had not been able to get near him. The search was continued until late this afternoon.

Searching parties had not given the new ground a thorough search, but the fences and woods were combed with a close search of the trees.

The loss was not unexpected, as he had been reported sick earlier in the day.

The Ladies Aid of the Christian Church will have a Sunday dinner this afternoon in the Christian Church.

Queen Marie Plants

American Cotton Seeds

Brussels—Queen Marie of Brus- sels has moved cotton plants. With some American cotton seeds she has been cultivating with great success a series of experiments in cotton cul- ture at her farm near Brussels. The queen exists each spring, and gives two hours' personal atten- tion to the care of the plants. The results reported of these tests in the ministry of agriculture and au- thorities hope that Brussels will soon be producing its own cotton. They have found American cotton seeds much more adaptable than the Egyp- tian or Indian.

For Rhyme's Sake

New Rochelle, N. Y.—A member now explains that the board of educa- tion changed the name of the new school from Westover Wilson to New Rochelle, because of the "pupils'" dislike of the Rhyme's name. From Rochelle rhyme with "L Yale," and Wilson doesn't.

Deserted Illinois Towns

There are seven thousand deserted in Illinois that she cannot find. She, too, lacks the look of the thousands. Pero every local community and the results are: "We have not known the word," she told the audience of the "Fathers and Sisters of the West." That is the name of all, that is the truth, and the word brings understanding, and understanding helps all along the way.

Path of Least Resistance

Most men go through life as seers in the path of the least, by following the way of the ground—Joe Billings.

Iron Highly Important

Iron, although present in the body in small amounts, is absolutely essential for the health of the blood. The iron content of the blood is usually about 2.4 to 2.5 parts per million, or about 1 mg per liter.
