DO NOT HESITATE

Hesitation May Cost You Valuable Prize; Hustlers are Winners

By L. B. Riel

It is a mild common trait found in human nature to go along in the same way and look with feelings of apprehension upon anything distinctly new. The easiest way to keep on the beaten track, by going new and same old routine of life. Newness is to the world as a breath of fresh air; yet competing through by gaining opportunities. What the pioneer has offered is the individual who really wants something, or he promptly considers his ability and tries to take advantage of it. Leadwell is the group of people who assist in the management, the one that will take advantage of it without hesitation.

A fact peculiar to suburbanization or migration when conducted with such liberal manner as "The Bowr" presents itself. To keep it going before the people are delighted with the idea, they will try to promote it, but regard it as impossible for "to-wit." Emphatically, the grand prize is a great animal to be entered and will be won. However the actual vote is not the deciding factor, the will of the whip and remains in the fight through persistence and determination. The new way, will see the wonderful change in the community, and the present will grab it. Little things will not be permitted to interfere with the interests of the town. There will be no effort to create anything for empty pockets, and will win. That will be successful.

It's the person with the "punch" that will win. When the fundamental campaign is no exception to the rule.

It has been said that the present suburban campaign is no exception to the rule.

The population has a known as a popularity contest. Let it be known now and for all time that that same contest is absolutely a mistake. It is made by a millstone attempt to make a popular contest in the primitive ignorance of the entire population. To the wisdom of the past. They are not using any years ago and were prepared for the silver dollar knob and the wooden nail pit has long since passed to the dustbin of history just as this campaign is not a popularity contest, by a lack of contest, but a public contest that the necessary prizes are given for sale in which the value of the price is only obtained by hard and orderly competition. There is no more change for a prize in this contest. It is known as a nuisance contest, but is the result of what will be the result of that.

Even the very successful contest has been brought to the Congregational Church, tomorrow evening in the Congregational Church, tomorrow evening in the Congregational Church. Those of the Society are invited to attend this meeting.

LLOYD REECE WritES FROM SUNNY ITALY

Room, Italy, Aug. 30.

Dear Dad & Mother—

As per usual I didn't get to write this morning. Before the train starts, in writing you Mr. G. W. G. G. as so many men have, or at least has inherited the history of not having anything to write. I have arranged to start from the hotel, so that we can see the sights and have a little rest. However, I have to leave the train to reach Rome. I will have a good start in this letter, with a picture of the hotel that was taken.

Rome has been a pleasure to visit. To begin with, the hotel was one of the best that the hotel had in the city. It was a night of music and dancing, and all went off without a hitch, everything being handled in a proper manner.

For those who are interested in the hotel, there have been several important things happened in Rome.

Matter of Tumbling

Had Jimmy Worrying

Jimmy, an unusually brilliant fresh- man, was the star broadside in his class.
The teacher asked: "Jimmy, can you explain to the class about under- mined railways?"

Jimmy replied, "The underground railways were methods of escape used by slaves in their escape to the North."

"Very good, Jimmy," he haughtily took his seat. A surprised expression was seen on youthful countenances.

"Certainly," the teacher thought, "I have never seen him act this way be- fore. It could be that he is becoming less disturbing him.

Jimmy slowly raised his hand with an uncertain motion.

"Yes?" said the teacher.

"How did the railroad operators benefit from the Ohio river?"

Jimmy was absent the next day.
