(J. S. F. Photograph)

Dayton, Ohio, Sept. 15.—Robert P. Kraus, 25, steeple jack is dead Jack McCormick, 28, was slightly injured yesterday when the two men fell from the 36th stack of the Dayton Rubber Manufacturing Co., at 111 Stickney street. The two men who make ropes holding the scaffolding slipped and released their best anchor. McMicken saved himself by throwing the end of the rope over a wire running from the deck and hanging there until he could work his way to the gangplank.

His companion fell the full length of the stack and was stuck in the roof of the building, rebuffing and falling upon a lot of rough planks piled near the building. He was engaged in painting the huge stack.

One of the largest frog farms in the state is located in the town of Covington. A large lake was drained and fish, eggs of frogs, eliminated. The frogs will supply mid-western and eastern markets.

Doings at Columbus

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 14.—"Hello Frank." How's every- thing? A lot of us were surprised to see you back home this week, B. W. Rill is in the City you can hear that intonation a hundred times a day. Senator Wii is back home now, for the first time in a while, as doos Delaware. During his entire public life, Willis has been one of the most popular men of Ohio. He knows probably as many voters by their first name as any other two-man team in the State, and he never forgets either a face or a name. They don't call him Senator here—that is not all of it—more particularly as "Puck" or "P. B.," and he comes right back in every corn with the word.

During the State Convention, a couple of weeks ago, Willis was seen to leave the stage at the Chamber of Commerce, where it was being held to greet an aged lady. She was growing tired and had to sit down, only to see the Senator, of whom she is a great admirer. Senator's father, so affecting, reached the lady just as she emerged from her chair and tucked down her check as she pressed his hand. "And now," he said, "and now the very dear.—Whew!—Hold on a minute. Let her get her breath. She's had only one—had been successful. "There's a position through the influence of the Senator, and had made good in every way. He has received two promotions in his work, and so she sent him home, the happiest of women. Instances like this trouble every boff with the Senator, for he is beloved by his constituents, and all his friends in public life. Willis was spoken of as a political apologist to Ohio's representative in the United States Congress, but that is just one of the many reasons why he will lead the Republican ticket in Ohio, next November, and voters of the State are just going to keep voting for him, for anything he wants, for they have that mistaken confidence in Willis that is not new, nor ever has been manifest of itself in any public life. Since McKinley and Harding.

Friends of the Ohio Workman's Compensation Law will be justly ac- cepted to the credit of the Ohio Labor Legislation. During the term of the next Governor, the Ohio State Industrial Commission will be continued. The Commission has had a record of indig- enous work, and the Ohio Labor Legislation will be more successful, but the Governor is the chief factor. Another is the fact that there is about $80,000,000 in compensation that is going to be paid this year. The Ohio Labor Legislation will be more successful, for the reason that there is $80,000,000 in compensation that is going to be paid this year. Any of the prices are worth working for, and if you don't win a corn- tion will be paid. Surely nothing could be more false than this cam- paign, and it is a prediction of the campaign manager that at its close the paper in Ohio will be in the hands of a great circulation as the result.

Make up your mind to win one of the prizes then make the next few hours count big while you can save a few dollars. Get busy now. Dig, dig, dig.
