Rescuing workers to free entombed men

Expect to Reach Those Tonight

May be Dead

(I. N. V. Dispatch)

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 15—Rescuers were attempting to reach eight men im- pressed 300 feet below the bed of the Mississippi River in a tunnel indicating that seven or more of them were probably drowned by the flood waters yesterday. The body of a dead man was found at the mouth of the tunnel by rescuers.

The men were trapped in a tunnel under the Missouri river here today when an explosion occurred when the men were constructing a large water main between Clay and Jackson cou- nties.

All air passages had caved in and the rescuers were working desper- ately to free the imprisoned men before the air supply was exhausted.

It's really more economical to look your best, where clothes are concerned.

Garments neglected, out of press, filled with dust and dirt, are worth far less than those that are well taken care of. The best your clothes can give you in service and style.

We believe in the thiftiness of frequent dry-cleaning—and you will too, if you try it.

Day the word, and we will call tomorrow.
