HURRICANE SWEEPING THE SOUTH

Miami Stricken; Storm Moving toward New Orleans

Many Die as Storm Rages; Property Loss Is Hundred Million In City of Miami

(Copyright 1926 by International News Service.)

(Oct. 26) Miami—Jacksonville, Fla.—Miami, of all the places in the Southern States, was least prepared for the hurricane that swept through this city and the neighboring sections of Florida yesterday. The city had a topsy-turvy feeling, its streets were crowded with homeless and destitute people who had fled from their homes in the face of the fearful storm. The hurricane had been in danger of reaching Miami, but the city was saved by the timely intervention of the United States government.

In the city streets and among the outskirts, the people were seen in every possible condition of suffering. Many were petrified with terror, while others were simply unconscious. The city was in a state of confusion, and the people were in a state of panic. The storm had taken many lives and caused much destruction.

Relief Funds Rushing To Stricken Cities

ESTIMATED LOSS IN THE VARIOUS DISTRICTS

JACKSONVILLE — A city destroyed but undaunted, ready to rebuild more splendid than it ever was, is the story of Jacksonville this day.

"The storm broke with such fury that it was like a bombardment of rockets."

"Food is badly needed to Miami and all cities and communities south of West Palm Beach and the water situation in Miami is a serious problem, which is being relieved by the shipment of water trucks from West Palm Beach," C. F. Hannah, of Dalton, Ga., stated.

"The only way we kept from drinking was rainwater, and most of the population was breakfasting on rainwater."--Mrs. Zollinger, Jacksonville.

"No rest has been reported and you would think that every person in this territory will feel the strain on him."--Mrs. Zollinger.

"We do not believe that 1,000 lives have been lost, and that is an exaggerated statement," said G. A. Kuhlman, of Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Poland, of Jacksonville, who have been patience witnesses of the horror to a pulp but the cardboard houses were not damaged by the wind. The tumbling thing came in the field and provided a perfect street of a fence for the boys who were playing ball. They said they could not have played better if the fence had not been there.

The Tampa Daily Times reported the local workers and all 15 to 20 at present, with the exception of the few who were killed, and the Jacksonville Daily News reported that the first unit, with doctors and nurses, was on its way by train from the city to doctors were on their way to the area. The train was 10 miles outside the city and the health commissioner, headed the list of the dead. The body of the doctor was found in the car, but he left the train. The contribution to relief was pouring in from all sections of the Middle West and New York, including the Royal Tenenbaum Ambulance Service.

Mrs. Zollinger lived with her daughter the city at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, with the body of her husband. Mrs. Zollinger was born in Perry County, 75 years ago, and came to Jacksonville at the time of her marriage to Mr. and Mrs. Zollinger, who were married in December 1913. Mrs. Zollinger had been a resident of Jacksonville for 30 years. She was taken to the local hospital and was pronounced dead on arrival. Mrs. Zollinger's body was taken to the hospital and placed in the morgue.

Mrs. Zollinger was known as the city's "First Lady." She was a member of the Board of Education, and a charter member of the Woman's Club. She was a member of the Woman's Club and was a charter member of the Woman's Club.

Mrs. Zollinger was buried in her home on N. High St. and passed away Saturday night after a long illness. The funeral service was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zollinger, who were married in December 1913. Mrs. Zollinger was a member of the Woman's Club and was a charter member of the Woman's Club.
