HOPE TO REACH MINERS IN NEXT 24-HOURS

By Howard G. Mayer
I. N. S. Special Correspondent

Pittsburgh, Sept. 29—In answer to a question as to whether plans are being made to send a rescue party or equipment to the shafts at the Italian mine, where 43 miners have been imprisoned in the G. Palet mine pits near Follam, as a result of last week's explosion, the Pennsylvania coal commission has been informed that plans to send a rescue party are under consideration.

Shortly after dawn today, your correspondent was summoned to the front steps of the Pennsylvania coal commission building, where a crowd of miners, working on a suspended platform, was preparing to carry out a plan of rescue.

The rescue party is composed of twenty-five men under the direction of the Pennsylvania coal commission. The party is equipped with the necessary tools and equipment necessary for the rescue.

A report of the rescue was made by Dr. Z. H. Smith to the Pittsburgh Daily Post. The report said that the rescue and the mine was not yet ready.

SOMETIMES

Sometimes when all the ladies have been heard

And sit and stare forevermore at the time that which our work judge- ment have espoused

The things we've seen with our eyes

Which we've viewed, and which we've grieved

Will flash before us in all our days

To us, as stars shine in deepest tinted skies

And we shall see how all God's plans are right

And we shall be happy, for we have loved most true

And we shall shortly know the length and breadth of our days

Is not God's sweetest gift to life so dear

A man who has learned from his labors

And that sometime the shadowed part of life

Conquers the fairest hours of our love

If it be not the gates of life

And stand within and all God's plan is right

We could interpret all this doubt and mystery.

And for each hidden mystery find out.

But not today; but his content, peace

God's plans like little pure and white unifed

We must not bear the close shut

This love shall melt with sandals bound by love

May all when we clearly see and understand

That we shall think, that God knows the love.

I have no doubt that we shall think, that God knows the love.
