3 QUAKES SHAKE CALIFORNIA CITIES

Central Coasted Region Shaken Three Times This Morning. Not Much Damage Done But Residents Were Frightened by Worst Quake since 1906.

(L. N. S. Dispatch)

San Francisco, Oct. 22—The central coastal region of California from Petaluma, 50 miles north of here, to San Luis Obispo, 250 miles south, was shaken early today by two sharp earthquakes which appeared to center in the Salinas valley, 75 miles south of here.

No damage other than broken plate glass windows had been revealed by a hurried telephonic check of towns in the radius of the tremor.

Salinas reported that, while the first shock, which registered at 4:35, was the most felt there since the 1906 quake, which devastated San Francisco, no damage had been reported.

The entire town of Salinas was awakened by the severity of the quake however, and within a few seconds, lights flashed on and throngs gathered in the streets.

The first shock was of merely half a minute duration and the second, which came at 5:35 a. m. was a brief, sharp shake, which lasted but a few seconds.

The second shock appeared to be of greater intensity, however, than the peak of the first tremor.

The first shock was not felt 40 miles south of San Luis Obispo and apparently, did not extend farther north than Santa Rosa.

Inland, it was felt for approximately 50 miles. Crockett reported that it was felt there and was of great severity.

San Francisco and East Bay cities felt both quakes with clear sharpness, dishes rattling in cupboards, loose doors swaying and, in a few instances, plate glass was broken.

San Juan, Hollister, Monterey and other Monterey county towns felt the tremors with varying degrees of intensity, all agreeing that the shock had centered in the Salinas valley.

A third, but minor, shock was reported from some points in the affected area, registering at 6:45 or approximately two hours after the first shock and an hour after the second.

This shock was felt in the East Bay regions but only faintly in San Francisco. It was not noticed in some points which felt the other shocks throughout the 300-mile coastal area affected and was felt in others.

A survey with the coming of daylight revealed minor damage in the downtown district of this city as a result of the earthquakes early today.

Plaster was cracked and fell to the floor in the Ferry building.

Plate glass on the west side of the Palace hotel was broken. This included five windows.

The Lincoln hotel a Lower Market street building, appeared to be slightly out of line.

Slight cracks in plaster and in the stucco finish of other buildings was noticeable.

One large plate-glass window of a Grant street department store was shattered.

Large display clocks stopped. Oakland reported that the clocks in the towers of the Oakland city hall and the Elks building there stopped at 5:43.

The clerk in an all night cigar store reported that he had been thrown against the counter of his store by the shock but was unhurt and no glass was broken.

Restaurants reported an unprecedented early morning demand for strong coffee, hundreds awakened by the shocks deciding to remain up.

The damage in this city is estimated at $50,000.

"MISS X" STILL REMAINS

A "MYSTERY"

Los Angeles Oct 22—As the preliminary hearing of the Almeda Temple McPherson conspiracy neared the end of the fourth week today, both defense and prosecution attorneys were concentrating on establishing the identity of the mysterious "Miss X"

But, despite these efforts the woman companion of Kenneth G. Ormiston, former radio operator at Angelus temple, at a Carmel cottage can be only designated by a letter of the alphabet.

Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sellaff, her self a co-defendant, alleges that a Miss Rachel Walls, of Philadelphia, was "Miss X" although she has never contended that Miss Walls was Ormiston's companion. She charges that Mrs. McPherson offered her a sum of money to find a woman to play that role. Miss Walls was the answer.

Attorneys for the evangelist claim that Mrs. Virla Kimbell, of Oakland, Mrs. Sellaff's sister was the "Miss X" Yesterday two witnesses testified concerning the identity of the woman who appeared in Salinas, Calif., and made out an affidavit that she was that woman.

One of them, Ju Age J. A. Bardin, was positive in his assertion that Mrs. Kimbell was the woman; the other, Russell Scott, could not identify Mrs. Kimbell as the woman who signed the affidavit before himself and Judge Bardin.

Prosecution attorneys allege that Mrs. McPherson is none other than the phantom "Miss X" and that her entire story of being kidnaped is a hoax.

Scranton, Pa., Oct 22—Two hundred passengers aboard a Delaware and Hudson railroad train were severely shaken but not seriously injured when the train jumped the track at Archbald, near here, early today. Still Hunt Heads

The Taiyals are supposed to be of South sea origin. In appearance they resemble the Dyaks. The population of all the "raw" savages in Formosa is supposed to be about 150,000, says the Adventure Magazine.

When the Chinese army was disbanded 80 years ago—when the Japanese took over the Beautiful Isles—all of their firearms were left in the country, and the entire collection gradually made its way where the highest price was offered—in the hills where the Taiyals still head-hunt as their favorite amusement and means of getting wives. More heads, more wives.

"ALL ABOARD" MAKES TREMENDOUS HIT! HITS ALL FUNNY BONES

Did you see "All Aboard" last night? You didn't! Don't let anything keep you home tonight. This will be your last chance to see the fine talent of Covington and Pleasant Hill in a side-splitting Comic Opera. If you're a chronic groucher don't go for you'll lose your reputation when you see that awful mix up over false teeth. Its worth fifty cents to hear and see the hero, Jack Berryhill when he loses his front teeth. If its worth that then you get free the nausal and adorable sister of Jack, Mary Emily Dunham; the hysterical Mrs. Stone Gertrude Livingston; Covington's favorite sweetheart Helen Rhoades; the would be villain (but he just can't), Richard Albany; the terrible Capt. Kidd; Carroll Koon; the coy, sylph-like Swedish stewardess, Glenna Berserman, the over-worked, real boss of the ship Jack Sifford; the clowns, Nathaniel Augustine and George Felger; the lovable "Sweet heart's" in every port; the husky "Sailor girls," the roly-poly "Bumble-bees," the cute little "Overalls"; the graceful "Sea nymphs and Water Witches"; the mappy "Sunshine Blues" of Pleasant Hill; and the stimulating "Antidotes." Don't be foolish and miss such an evening of fun, song and dances.

MASONIC CLUB

About seventy-five members of the Masonic Club and their families enjoyed the pot luck supper, Wednesday evening in their Club Rooms.
There were eleven tables of good thing to eat, which were enjoyed by all present. The officers of the club had charge of the serving. The diversions were cards and dancing; Mrs. George Hall winning high score among the ladies and Russell Miller winning high score among the men.
Mr. and Mrs. Simon Bashor, of Columbus, were out of town guests. The November meeting will be in charge of Mr. Ira Conrad, Russell and Ed Furns.

Phrase Traced to Dante

Many and classic phrase alike current truisms with clarity. A current phrase, "We don't know where we're going but we're on our way" has counterpart in Dante, who about 1000 A. D. wrote: "Omi' cosa che va, to see 'for reason' ("As one who goes but knows not whether he treads") Truly, that which is done is that which shall be done; and there is no new thing under the sun."

Extreme Optimism

Here is a story about the most optimistic man: Totally bald, he went to a drug store and asked for a bottle of hair restorer. "Yes, sir," the clerk said; "here is a preparation that is sure to make your hair grow." "All right," replied the optimist, "I'll take a dose. And please wrap up a comb and brush with it."

Tribute to Laughter

Like the laughter that opens the lips and the heart, that shows all the world that you really are not so bad as you look.

With Helen Chadwick, Guss Canfield, Phyllis Haver and TONY
Tom thought Chicago was tame—So he left town to turn a peace ful dude ranch into a real barbed-wire, razor-tear' West. But he got more than he bargained for.
