CANTON, O., Nov. 5.—More than one dozen more people besides the three already indicted were concerned in the assassination of the Militant publisher of the Canton News, Don R. McLeet.

At least four additional first-degree-murder indictments will be asked of the Stark-county grand jury. These were part of the positive statements made by Prosecutor McClellan in his arguments for the continuance of the trial of Louis Maser and the early hearing of the case against Pat McDermott, "key figure in the mystery surrounding the murder before Judge Edwin Diehl this afternoon.

RAILWAY WILL FALL INTO JUNK DEALER'S HANDS

Attempts, for More Than Year, to Find Buyer for Property Fails.

or South Transportation System.

The Dayton Covington and Piquette Traction company will discontinue service Saturday night at 11:55 p. m., when the last car bound from Dayton pulls into the West Milton barn, Charles Eliff, attorney for the receivers announced this morning.

Attempts have been made for a year to secure a purchaser for the property as a going concern and hope was held until Friday morning that a legal bid for the property would be received. There was not a legal bid received, however and Eliff recommended to federal district court, informally, that the bid of Jacob Ziskind Lowell, Mass., a railroad junkie, be accepted for the property. Ziskind's bid includes the rails, trolley wires and other right-of-way equipment except the poles, which will be sold to remaining public utilities, the telephone and telegraph companies.

Bids have been received on between 15 and 20 parcels of land along the right of way of the company, on the cars, machinery and other equipment of the company and will be recommended to the court to be accepted. The filing of the various papers in federal district court will not be made until the first of next week, according to Eliff.

The future of Overlook park, which has been operated by the company at West Milton, is in the hands of the successful real estate bidder or bidders for the property. T. Russell Robinson, president of the defunct company, said Friday. The successful bidder has not been determined.

The passage of the company will leave the Stillwater valley without any means of rail transportation with the exception of the Pennsylvania railroad which crosses the valley at Covington and the Big Four railroad which crosses the valley at Ludlow Falls. The valley will be without bus connection with Dayton until a permit is issued by the Ohio Public Utilities commission to one of the nearly 100 applicants for the route. The first bid for the line was made by the Coleman interests, extensive bus operators throughout the state of Ohio, with headquarters at Cleveland.

The victims were Dr. E. O. Heff, Dr. Wm. A. Todd, city health inspector, Mrs. Philomena Carpio, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Gordon, Clara Stamvino and Mrs. E. E. Eichelick.

The two physicians, who were bitten when they went to the rescue of the others, sent the animal's head to Columbus for a pathological examination.

600 STUDENTS RIOT; FIVE ARE ASSESSED

Boston, Nov. 5.—Twenty persons were injured, five were arrested and scores of students are today facing suspension or expulsion, following a wild riot of 600 Massachusetts Institute of Technology men through Cambridge and this city, leaving a wake of destruction.

Six of the students are suffering from the effects of tear bombs hurled by the police to quell the rioters battling with reserves in a dance hall. Another was hurt when run over by an automobile. Scores more were suffering from the soot with the police.

The college authorities were planning an investigation of the riot, which began in the annual rush between two classes on the campus. The police of Cambridge and Boston were also investigating with a view to obtaining warrants for the arrest of more students.

Store signs were torn down, windows broken, automobiles wrecked, cars of the Boston elevated rails, trolley carts out and window grills ripped off, while two cars on a train in the tunnel were put out of commission altogether.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

(U. N. S. Dispatch)

Raymond Alta, Nov. 5.—Five destroyed five buildings, including the Raymond hotel, in the business district of this town today, doing damage estimated at $200,000. Several buildings were occupied by sugar concerns, the principal industry of the community.

Orlando, Fla., Nov. 5.—A. B. Christie formerly of Minneapolis, who is charged with assault upon a young Orlando woman, was found guilty by a jury in circuit court here today. The verdict automatically carries a penalty of death.

New Haven Conn., Nov. 5.—The seismograph at Yale University recorded a severe earthquake at 3:03 o'clock this morning. The quake, according to the instrument, reached its maximum at 3:18. It was said the tremor was undoubtedly severe, and 2,000 miles distant in a southerly direction.

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 5.—Two trainmen were killed and four others severely injured early today when two extra freight trains on the Pennsylvania railroad collided at Millersburg, 30 miles from here, according to reports to the Pennsylvania offices here.

The men killed were Paul T. Bailey, Lykens, Pa., an engineer, and Wilbur J. Sees, Sunbury a brakeman.

According to reports a local train on the Lykens branch of the Pennsylvania railroad ran onto the main line at Millersburg and crashed head on with a main-line freight.

London O., Nov. 5.—Paul Weese, 21 confessed slayer of his grandmother, Mrs. Flora Richard, 76, today stood declared insane and was awaiting transfer from the county jail here to the Lima state hospital for the criminal insane.

Weese admitted the murder, declaring, "Everyone told me to do it."

He had been raised from infancy by his grandmother, his mother having died 20 years ago.

Mrs. Richard was stabbed thirty times with a kitchen knife.

Toledo, O., Nov. 5.—Toledo police today were investigating the "confession" of John Helms, 24, a negro, held as a suspect in the Toledo clubbing cases. The mysterious "clubber" has killed four women and attacked several others during the past year, two of the victims being killed within the past two weeks.

Helms, arrested on complaint of members of his family that they were unable to control him, appears to be demented, police said, but they put little credence in his admission that he is the "clubber." The negro has been living near the scene of the two latest murders committed by the clubber.

Ochrane, Ont., Nov. 5.—Five stockmen were burned to death in a collision between a stock train and a freight train which resulted in the burning of two cars near Parlane, Ont. William Moffat, of Centerville, Ont., is the only casualty identified.

For late reports read the Stillwater Valley News.

Fostoria, O., Nov. 5.—The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Bennis, deaf mutes, were discovered in their home here today by J. E. Whitman, a farmer, for whom Bennis worked, who broke down the door. They had been asphyxiated.

HOPE REVIVED BY RESCUERS; SOME MEN MAY BE ALIVE

(U. N. S. Dispatch)

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 5.—The official number of men entombed by a quicksand cave-in at the Barnes-Heck mine here was placed at 51 today instead of 32, as first reported.

Mine officials on a check-up of men, find that Frank Helms failed to report for duty Wednesday morning the day of the disaster.

Helms is said to have stayed at home to assist the two-day bride of his son. Arvid, arrange newly-purchased furniture in their home.

Helms, however, was too broken up over the news of his comrade's death to reprieve over his own good fortune.

Meanwhile hundreds of women and children, relatives of the entombed men, crowded about the mouth of the ill-fated shaft, hoping that by some miracle the verdict that "all were lost" might prove wrong.

The men were working on the bottom level of the 1,600 foot shaft Wednesday noon when the bottom of a quicksand swamp dropped into the mine working and engulfed them.

Eleven bodies from which the clothes had been washed by the force of the torrent, were recovered at the surface of an adjoining shaft, two miles from the main Barnes Hecker shaft.

Bodies of the remaining victims may not be recovered for days, perhaps weeks, mine officials pointed out. It will be necessary to sink a new shaft through the quagmire of mud and sand before they can be reached, it was said.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 5.—Steadily rising waters in the Barnes-Hecker mine where 51 men, in all probability met death Wednesday stirred workers today to hope they might reach the 44 yet in the mine within the next 24 hours.

Leading mine authorities from all sections of the state declared today, after a conference, there was, at best on chance in ten million that the surging flood which engulfed the mine had not killed the entire 51.

UTILITIES COMMISSION TO ACT ON BUS APPLICATION

(U. N. S. Dispatch)

Columbus, O., Nov. 5.—With the abandonment of service by the Dayton Covington and Piquette Traction company scheduled to become effective tomorrow midnight, but a few hours away, the utilities commission was expected to take some action this afternoon on the applications of eight individuals and business concerns who are seeking permission to operate a bus line along the same route.

Crowds Grow Less As Famous Trial Gets Under Way. "Pig" Woman Sick in Hospital. Court May Adjourn.

By James Kligglen

Somersville, N. J., Nov. 5.—What immediate action, of any will be taken to obtain the testimony of Mrs. Jane Gibson, star witness for the state in the Hall-Mills murder trial will not be determined until after court convenes today. Mrs. Gibson known as the "pig woman," is seriously ill in Somerset hospital for pyrolysis, a pus condition of the kidneys.

Somersville had toned down somewhat today. The carnival atmosphere was fast disappearing. The crowd at the court-room doors was smaller this morning than at any of the previous days. At ten o'clock, however, at least 200 persons, mostly women, were milling around the courthouse lobby and blocking the stairway leading to the court room. Court was called to order at 10:12 o'clock.

Issac van Derver, photographer, who took pictures of the scene of the murder, was recalled to the stand as the first witness. He was handed photographs and asked to put proper titles on them.

In a low, quivering voice, James Mills, thin, anemic looking husband of Mrs. Eleanor Mills, who with the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, was shot to death in a "lover's lane" on the night of September 14, 1922, told from the witness stand today of his movements on the night of the murder and of his meeting the next day the slain rector's widow, Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, one of the defendants.

It was the most dramatic point of the trial so far. There wasn't a sound in the court room as the nervous little janitor of Rev. Hall's church told of the events that took place the fatal night.

Mrs. Hall's pale face remained expressionless as the witness told of meeting her the next day. He saw her on the morning of September 15, at between 8:30 and 9:00, in the study of her husband's church of St. John the Evangelist, at New Brunswick.

It was learned on high authority that the court will not go to the hospital for the "pig woman's" testimony. If, however, Prosecutor Simpson requests it, court may adjourn for a few days to await her recovery, since her testimony is considered more important than that of other witnesses.

TEA POT DOME CASE BE- FORE SUPREME COURT TODAY

Washington, Nov. 5.—Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate and former Secretary of the Interior, Fall today carried to the supreme court their fight to escape trial on a criminal indictment growing out of the Tea Pot Dome oil scandal.

They asked the high court to review a decision of the District of Columbia circuit court of appeals dismissing a special appeal which had been allowed them.

Sinclair and Fall alleged the Walsh act of June 8, 1926, which they said was enacted specifically to prohibit their appeal was unconstitutional. The Walsh act prohibited an appeal from any interlocutory order in a criminal action in the District of Columbia court.

Obituary

John Trowbridge

A mantle of gloom fell and the death angel appeared to claim it's own, and at fifteen minutes past seven Tuesday morning October 28th 1923 the soul of John Trowbridge of North Pearl street, Covington, O. took it's flight. Brother Trowbridge was born near Gettysburg O. February 28th 1858 and at the time of his death had reached the age of 68 years 7 month and 28 days, February 13th 1879 he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Long of near Gettysburg to which union was blessed with four children namely Mrs. Albert Drawing Mrs. Della Thompson, Mr. Ward Trowbridge all of Covington and Mr. Harry Trowbridge of Englewood, O. they with a dear mother are left to mourn the loss of a loving father and husband. Brother Trowbridge was the son of David and Rebecca Trowbridge, and was one of a family of eight children, namely Wm. Trowbridge whose father and mother have gone before. The brothers and sisters left to mourn his loss are, Mr. George Trowbridge, Greenville O. Samuel Trowbridge Arcanum, O. Margarette Vanatta Gettysburg, Nancy Best, Nora Snack, Kichiah Van Atta, all of Greenville, O.

Brother Trowbridge also leaves eight grandchildren and a large host of friends to mourn his loss.

The subject of our sketch was at a kindly disposition, courteous affable considerate to all. In youth he was baptized in the Lutheran faith.

Brother Trowbridge was especially endeared to the home circle, because of the qualities he possessed as a husband and father. He was held in high esteem, he lived the golden rule, do unto others as you would have others do unto you.

It could not well be otherwise than this removal from our midst be an occasion of sorrow, of tears, and regrets since he was loved. Yet for the wife, children, brothers, sisters, and sorrowing ones their remains the sure word of God, that though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

It is sad that one we cherish should be taken from our home. But the joys that do not perish, live in memory alone. All the years we've spent together, All the happy golden hours, Shall be cherished in remembrance, Fragrant sweets from memories flowers.

CARD OF THANKS

The family desire to extend their heart felt thanks to the neighbors, for their beautiful flowers and also for their kind help during our hours of sorrow, also the minister, singers and the Miller Brothers for their every effort to please and the efficient way they conducted the funeral. God bless you all!

Mrs. Mary Trowbridge and family.

Rev. B. L. Stroup and Mr. Carrol Koon are expecting to leave Monday for Lancaster where they will attend the Ohio Synod. They will remain until Thursday when the Synod will close.

The week beginning next Lord's Day, Nov. 7, is one of significance in relation to our home church and national life. As it will be observed in many places by emphasizing what is known as "Father and Son Week" and also "Children's Book Week" it should be a means of much blessing both to young and old.

We can not forget, too, that this will be the week in which tender memories are associated with the observance of Armistice Day.

The subject of the morning sermon will be "Our Fathers and Wise Sons," Prov. 10:1. The pastor's theme for the evening sermon will be "Who is Who in 'The Book of Life,'" Phil 4:3, Rev. 3:16.

Japanese Royalty Grows

Own Fresh Vegetables

The gardens occupy several acres and include a number of large hot-houses. All varieties of vegetables are raised during the entire year. When the royal family is away on vacation, these special vegetables and hot-house flowers are sent to them daily in ice-packed private cars.
