SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

Columbus, O., Nov. 17—With the election out of the way discussion is already being heard for legislation that will make possible a new radio office building. The best general store in the city desirably the State needed one bad enough, but along with other conditions that would provide the ways and means for the operation of such a building as is required. To house the various State departments now outside the State House. Only recently the department of health was moved to new quarters and new State departments may be found from the Union station to far north on High street, and from the river to the west on the Ohio and Ninth streets on the east. At any one of these is office several departments will have a better face to it when it is to cover them all in one day. Their needs are so great that the funds of the Workmen's Compensation Law are supposed to provide two years ago, but other ways and means of financing a new office building will be found. Present plans are for the early initiation of such a measure in the two months' time of the general assembly so that there will be no more delay than necessary in getting the work under way.
