FALSELY ACCUSED SAYS PURNELL

Interview With Head of the House of David

CLAIMS CELEBRATE LIFE

Declares Disguntled Ex-members of Sect Trying to Blackmail Him

By BENJAMIN PURNELL
(Copyright by I. N. S.)

Benton Harbor Mich. Nov. 22—I have lived a life of a celibate ever since I received this most holy faith, which was approximately 33 years ago. Since that time I have followed religiously the tenets of the faith of which I am the head and not once in that time have I known a single woman not even my own beloved wife, Mary Purnell.

The stories of these disgruntled ex-members, that I attacked them under the guise of a faithful religious rit, are falsehoods. Money, the root of all evil, is behind these charges. It is black mail pure and simple.

The plot was hatched within the colony years ago by certain parties. Thwarted in their ambitions to assume a position of power in the House of David, they gathered a few of the weak minded in the ranks of the colony about them and, sowed the seeds of this diabolical plot in their minds.

The result the word now knows. The remainder of these cohorts swooped down on me with their suits and false, ugly charges and such a hue and cry was raised in the press of the nation that I knew I could not secure a fair trial then, so I fled four years ago.

The charge I have hidden in the colony all these our years is untrue. I have been numerous places, the exact locations of which I do not care to reveal now.

Prosecutors Geo. W. Beckwith, by charge that I dare not face. Basile Woodworth in court, that I will exercise all possible legal subterfuges to evade this criminal trial and finally will jump my bonds of $125,000.

This otherwise brilliant young man, who has gone berserk on this one subject, is wrong. I shall demand speedy justice. I shall face Basile and all my accusers in the court as quickly as possible and I certainly shall not fall by the hands of respected, prominent business men whose dealings with me have convinced them of the asinnity of these charges.

The allegations that I despoiled these former girl members of the colony by telling them it was a holy religious rite whereby I gained more strength and they gained an added star in their crown is both.

My faith based on the Holy Scriptures, opposes even a man and wife living together until after they have reached a stage where they are spiritually above the temptations of the flesh.

I have followed this tenet religiously. Since the day my wife Mary and I received the conversion, we have lived together as a brother and sister. As God is my Judge, I have known no woman since.

It is written in the Bible that we shall be visited by such persecutions as I am suffering just before the judgement day, when all but the faithful elect shall die, and I have been expecting this for years, but I shall be vindicated.

Los Angeles Nov. 22—Three persons perished when a fierce early morning fire swept through a downtown apartment here today.

Four others including two firemen were badly injured.

Last Call to Contribute to Fire Department Fund

This is the last call to the citizens who wish to contribute to the fund being raised by The News for the benefit of the Covington Fire Department.

The response has been very pleasing and the fund, including pledges has passed the $350 mark. This is more than three times the amount for which we sought.

Those wishing to add their bit to the fund may do so if it is brought to this office not later than noon tomorrow.

Twenty-two of the members of the department answered the call of the bell this morning at five o'clock, which shows again how efficient an organization they are, and their value to the community.

Those who have contributed to the fund since the last report are:

- M. H. Westfall, $1.00.
- Miss Sarepta Leonard—$1.00.
- W. H. Perry, $2.00.
- Mrs. Mae Metzger, $1.00.

EARLY MORNING FIRE!

A fire broke out on the roof at the home of Mrs. Clint Wallick, on S. Wall Street at about five o'clock this morning. The family were sitting at breakfast and did not know the roof was burning. Mr. Bergamire living a block over on Pearl street noticed the roof burning and called the fire department. Buckets were used and the fire did not do much damage.

Upon inspection, Mr. Neth, thinks the fire was probably started from sparks, as the chimney seemed in good condition.

TOO MUCH ALCOHOL

At an early hour this morning at the 5:50 eastbound bus was taking on a lady passenger at Ludlow street, a small street by William Kerr, also traveling east was driven into the bus with the result of disabling the small car and requiring a service truck to drag it to a garage for repairs.

It is said by neighbors that all the alcohol was not in the radiator of the small car.

Columbus Letter

By BRYANT HARBERT

Columbus, O., Nov. 22.—An early increase in the gasoline tax from two cents per gallon to three and probably four is foreseen in official circles here as limited "information" on the Capitol.

A sort of unofficial "poll," as yet incomplete, reveals very little opposition to an increase and considerable favorable sentiment. It is generally conceded that an extra tax on gasoline offers the safest way of raising additional funds, but a real fight may be waged over displacement of the proceeds.

The present tax provision annual review of approximately $13,500,000 which is used exclusively for maintenance of repair of highways and city streets. No part of it can be used for new construction. The last legislature appropriated $7,000,000 for construction for the two year period ending January 1. A new legislature, however, could make no appropriation for this purpose because of a depleted treasury. It is knowledge of this fact that is causing concern in official circles.

It has been proposed that an extra gas tax be applied to construction, but this program will be fought by several groups, especially proponents of education who will make a determined effort to have a portion of an increased tax set aside for school purposes.

At this time there is practically no sentiment for a direct levy for either school purposes or highway construction. In fact only one other probable tax plan has been mentioned. One group has proposed an increase in the excise corporation and franchise tax, but it is extremely doubtful whether this additional fund, if made available would be applied to highway purposes.

As matters stand, the legislature must in some way devise a new revenue producing measure or halt all highway construction for a period of two years.

News Flashes

(O. N. S. Dispatch)

London, O. — A "stern" "warm" switching was given one school lad. The teacher was switching the lad for some infraction of the rules, when he cried that he had matches in his trousers' pocket and that he was on fire.

The switch had ignited the matches and the lad's trousers were burning.

London, O. — Standing on the top of a fifty foot extension ladder, hinging with one hand and welding a paint brush all day was the way Moses Bantz, of London, veteran painter and contractor and painter spent his 79th birthday.

Born in New York Penn. nearly four score years ago, Mr. Bantz came to London about the close of the Civil War and has lived here since that time. About fifty years ago, he started painting.

Cincinnati, O. — It was a very ghastly sight. The negro stepping from a street car calmly jerked a knife from some where on his person, and proceeded to jab at his side and stomach several times.

Three policemen looked on in popt-eyed amazement. As the larkey's clothes became drenched he still stood firm, jabbing the knife into his abdomen. The policemen perceived he was getting somewhat thinner as the stuff continued to trickle to the pavement.

Then instead of falling prostrate, the negro started to run! Roused into action the "law" captured him. He had merely been puncturing a rubber bag full of moonshine, and now he's held on charges of "possession."

Brideport, O., No. 22.—Mailing of calendars and circulars will be prohibited between December 10 and the close of the year, according to Postmaster George Sheet. The postoffice department believes this will reduce Christmas congestion.

Martins Ferry, O., Nov. 22.—In a critical condition as a result of a bone lodging in his throat while eating turtle soup, W. S. Thornburgh, 47 Bridgeport, was rushed to a hospital here for an operation. Dr. E. W. Woodruff, removed the bone. He is now convalescing.

London, O., Nov. 22.—Everett Elliott, "second trick" watchman at the Main street crossing for the Pennsylvania railroad here is in the Crawford county jail in lieu of $1,500 bond because by his own confession, police say, he placed an obstruction on the railroad tracks which he could later "discover" report to the company and thus "get in good" with the company.

Several weeks ago a piece of rail was discovered to have been placed on the tracks in the patch of a passenger train. The wheels of the engine knocked it off, and the train was not derailed. This week a tie was found on the tracks. Elliott was arrested and confessed, according to authorities.

ROUTZAHN BROS. DISTINCTIVE FUNERAL SERVICE

OHIO FARMERS WARNED TO BE CAREFUL OF SEED CORN

Ohio farmers will be seriously handicapped in their corn planting next spring, unless they take special care now in selecting and storing their seed corn, according to a statement issued by the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation. Continued rains and overflowing streams have caused much of the Ohio corn to stand in muddy fields in the past month, and exceptional care must be taken by the farmer who wants a good stand and who would reduce his feed bill next spring.

"Good seed corn next spring will depend on artificial heat and ventilation that is given it at this time of year," the Foundation states. "As it comes from the fields in the fall, seed corn contains 15 to 35 percent moisture, and this moisture content must be reduced to about 12 to 15 percent if the corn is to pass through the winter without losing the vitality of the seed. Corn properly dried will not be greatly damaged by freezing, so that it is very important that immediately after picking, the corn be placed where it will receive free ventilation in order to dry it rapidly. This done, the corn should be stored where it will not be exposed to extreme cold.

"Any arrangement the farmer can make for drying the seed corn is all right, providing there is plenty of ventilation. Corn trees, wire racks, bag strings to tie the ears, or any other method usable and expedient will do. Carens should be taken, however, that the moisture laden ears do not touch. Drying corn porches, sides of buildings or on the windmill should be avoided, as this results in lowered germination next spring because of freezing."

One-half of us don't know how the other half gets its credit.

The only surprising phase of the statement that there probably will be a soft coal strike next year, is that it was run as a news story.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

(L. N. S. Dispatch)

Bridgeport, N. J. Nov. 22—Two persons were shot and killed and a third possibly fatally injured here today by Linwood Ware, 22, according to police.

The dead are Mr. and Mrs. William Gandy, each 67, who boarded with Ware's parents, Mrs. Madeline Maxwell, 26, Ware's sister, was the third victim. She is not expected to live.

The youth used an automatic pistol. The three were at breakfast when the young Ware entered, carrying a pistol. Without a word of warning, he started to shoot and then ran from the house, police stated. He was arrested without a struggle, a block away.

Marion, O. Nov. 22—Thieves operating at Marion are determined to supply all their needs, including remedies for their aches and pains. While Dr. E. E. Mahla was attending a dance someone took his medicine case from the rear seat of his automobile.

Elyria, O. Nov. 22—Richard Emig 48 and his wife, Mrs. Ada Emig, 40, formerly of Detroit, killed in a grade crossing crash here last night, were identified today.

Emig formerly was an automobile engineer for the Cadillac company, of Detroit, but for the past three years had been employed by the Peerless Motor Car Corporation, of Cleveland. The couple was driving from Detroit to Cleveland when their car was struck by a Baltimore and Ohio freight train at a crossing here. They had no children.

Cincinnati, O. Nov. 22—Police here today were searching for the divorced husband of Mrs. Ruby Foertney, 29, in hope of finding a possible clue to the slaying of Leon Paris, 29, and the critical wounding of Mrs. Foertney last night.

The woman, who was in a serious condition in a hospital here today suffering from four bullet wounds, declared to police that her former husband entered her suburban home shot Paris and then shot at her. Paris, formerly from Beardstown, Ill. was said to be a boarder at Mrs. Foertney's home.

Batavia, O. Nov. 22—John Weber, 43, was found guilty of murdering his 18-year-old baby with a valley from a shotgun by the jury, which had deliberated more than ten hours upon the case.

Wilmette, Ill. Nov. 22—Walter J. Hill, of Northbrook, and W. J. Rakski were instantly killed here Friday when their automobile truck was demolished by a Northshore interurban train traveling more than 50 miles an hour.

Cleveland, O. Nov. 22—An investigation was ordered today into an explosion which caused $25,000 damage to an apartment building here and caused 76 occupants to flee in terror.

The blast, thought by some to have been caused by sewer gas, occurred late at night. The force of the explosion tore doors from elevator shafts and shattered most of the windows in the four-story building. Menhela covers nearby were blown across yards.

Steubenville, O. Nov. 22—Authorities of two states were endeavoring today to unravel the veil of mystery which surrounds the murder of Dr. Diego Delino, Italian physician, whose bullet-riddled body was found in his motor car on the Ohio-West Virginia border near his home Thursday.

We Can Tell You What To Do!

When a tooth begins to ache it is a real danger sign. Quick action may make it possible for us to save that tooth, and it may be too late. But immediate action is necessary to save the other teeth, which may be infected from the diseased tooth. Make it a habit to have a regular inspection. It will save you hours of pain and many dollars.

Get You Any Station You Want

the Grebe Binocular Coils then prevent other stations from interfering with your enjoyment

BEFORE buying a radio set, remember that extreme selectivity (selection of stations at will) is essential if you are to have a full measure of satisfaction. It is one of the greatest advantages a set can have.

The air is saturated with programs, many from powerful stations, and often on wave lengths very close together. Can the set you are considering separate them so that any one station can be tuned without interference from the others? Can distant stations be brought in with volume, despite local broadcasting?

All this the Synchronphase does because of its Binocular Coils, an exclusive Grebe feature.

In addition to this extreme selectivity, the Synchronphase has other features which give it exclusive advantages: viz. Colorators, S-L-F Condensers, Flexible Unit Control, etc.
