Gypsies Ask For Protection

19 Terre Haute Gypsies Being Exonerated From State By Private Detectives. Were Frightened By Gunmen.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 28—Guarded by a half dozen detectives, a band of gypsies, in fast motor cars, to-day was speeding along the Pennsylvania-Ohio frontier, on route to the national headquarters in Washington, for protection from a gang of Chicago gypmen.

The gypsies, desperate with fear, fled into a Cleveland police station after they had been attacked by two motor cars filled with armed gypsies on the road between here and Pittsburgh.

Leaving their motor cars standing in the middle of the street, bunching to the gypsies, they rushed into the police station, seeking protection from a gang of上海 gypmen.

Flying Ability of Birds

The carrier pigeon's wing is in proportion to its length, the better able is the bird to carry the body in comparison to the head. This is why the carrier pigeon is more effective than the swift in carrying long messages.

Easy Going

One of the biggest accomplishments in the pigeon world was the flight by a carrier pigeon known as "Blackie." During the war, this bird was used to carry messages for the British army. The pigeon was reported to have completed a journey of 600 miles in 24 hours. The bird was eventually found to be too easy-going for its duties and was retired from service.

UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICES
This union Thanksgiving service was held yesterday in the Presbyterian church. Mr. H. F. Kalb, the minister, delivered the address of thanks, and Mr. Kalb also opened the service with a prayer. Mr. Stripling, reading in the afternoon, spoke of the blessings of the season. Several good hymns Thanksgiving were sung, Miss Ida Shaull giving a lovely song praise also.

Dr. Thomas was introduced by Rev. McKee and gave an excellent sermon from the 2nd Psalm using the great names in the Psalms. Thus—"Our Lord has been our Shepherd, I have not wanted—neither have I lacked for pasture and bread—yes, though I have been in the valley of the shadow of death, yet I will fear no evil—neither has He prepared a table before me."

Some very good points were made as to the obligation of every one to bow in meekness to the Lord and to the service of all. For these things we should be thankful, as well as for higher spiritual blessings, since we pray—"Give us this day our daily bread."

The green pastures of his love and mercy are also shown in the gift of Jesus Christ. The church of Jesus Christ was not only His church, but the church of the world. Dr. Thomas finished with the best music ever heard. The still waters of its worship as well as its prayer was shown among the congregation—song and sermon by radio. The promise of God's presence is with his gathered people. For this blessing we should be most thankful.

Dr. G. L. Goodlin in a good sermon said that he spoke as God's representative and that his sermons were given for the benefit of his hearers. Among other things he said: "The service was enjoyed by all the pulpit using the confirmitors for the near East Relief. Rev. R. Reynolds of Middletown was also present giving the benefit of his wisdom."
