CHANGE TO BE MADE IN PHILIPPINES

GENERAL WOOD TO BE REMOVED AS HEAD OF ISLAND GOVERNMENT

Washington, Dec. 2.—The turbulent days of Leonard Wood as governor-general of the Philippines are numbered.

His retirement has been definitely decided upon by the Coolidge administration, it was learned today, and consideration is now being given to the selection of a successor.

Three names are being considered: Senator James W. Wadsworth, of New York, recently defeated for re-election.

Colonel Carmi Thompson, of Ohio, who has just completed a survey of the islands for President Coolidge.

Colonel Henry L. Stimson, of New York, secretary of war in the Taft administration.

Colonel Thompson's report on his three-months investigation of affairs in the islands will be laid on President Coolidge's desk shortly. If it is not already in his hands, it is understood to make three prime recommendations:

1. Appointment of a civil rather than a military governor.

2. Removal of the islands from the control of the war department to a civil department, such as the department of the interior.

3. Revision of some of the native laws, particularly one which limits any corporation from holding more than 25,000 acres of land.

Colonel Thompson's report, it is understood, will praise General Wood's administration and probably in making his recommendations to congress for a change in Philippine policy. President Coolidge will pass along this praise.

Columbus, O. Dec. 2.—Belief that the cholera which struck Ohio's swine industry about September first is subsiding was voiced here today by H. L. Evans, livestock marketing department, Ohio farm bureau federation. This is indicated, he said by the kind and amount of stock going to market and the demand for feeder pigs, which are being moved into territory where cholera depopulated the hog lost.

St. Clairsville, O. Dec. 2.—Alleged damages equal to $50 a minute for the sixty minutes he was imprisoned in the Yorkville jail is sought by Andy Makara, Jr. in suit for $3,000 filed here today. ### KIDNAPPED OFFICERS ARE STILL ON FLEEING RUM BOAT

New Orleans Dec. 2.—The French run-runner Arsene J., with two kidnapped prohibition officials aboard was believed nearing Havana or Nassau today.

No trace of the schooner, which put to sea after over-powering Assistant Prohibition Administrator J. B. Matthews and a machinist's mate, has been found since she escaped in a gale, Monday, Commander J. D. Brookway of the coast-guard cutter 302, reported by radio today.

Commander Brookway informed O. D. Jackson, chief dry administrator for his district that in the 40 hours since her escape the Arsene J., has had ample time to reach either Havana or Nassau. A report that the cutter 302 had overtaken the schooner only to lose it again when a tow-line broke, was found to be untrue.

Meanwhile, fear was expressed here that Matthews and the machinist's mate met with violence at the hands of the nine or ten men that comprise the Arsene's crew.

Reports were circulated that the two dry officials were killed but Jackson expressed the opinion these were false. He believed the missing men would either be rescued by the fleet of government ships pursuing the Arsene J., or landed safely when the rum runner reaches Havana or Nassau.

The chase to overtake the Arsene J., was in progress somewhere in the Gulf of Mexico today but exactly where Jackson refused to reveal.

The coast-guard cutter 302 picked up the Arsene J. Monday noon, off Southwest Pass. The schooner had 1,200 gallons of liquor on board. Matthews and Handley, the machinist's mate went aboard her and no resistance was made by the rummer's crew as the cutter 302 prepared to tow her into port.

A sudden gale arose, making towing impossible, and the 302 was ordered to port for fueling, leaving Matthews and Handley aboard the Arsene J., when the 302 returned, the Arsene was missing.

The Tallapoosa and other coast-guard cutters were immediately called out to aid in the rescue of their kidnapped prohibition chief.

Vienna, Dec. 2.—Wild rumors, impossible of confirmation, were rife in Vienna today concerning events transpiring in Roumania. All attempts to establish telephone communication with the Roumanian capital were fruitless. Trouble was reported to have already broken out there.

Among the reports going the rounds were those that Premier Averescu plans to establish a dictatorship and that he has taken over the portfolio of minister of war from M. Mircescu, who is reported to have been compelled to flee the country for being involved in a conspiracy to restore the former Crown Prince Carol to his royal prerogatives.

Cincinnati, O. Dec. 2.—Kenneth McCallum, 60, of Dayton, was under a sentence of 30 days in jail here today, following his conviction late yesterday on a petit larceny charge.

THE CHRISTMAS SEASON

HAPPY fatigue. Rushing, hurrying, sitting up late. Doing up bundles. Posting packages. Delivering presents. Getting so tired-out you don't know how you can ever finish and then a new vigor and energy and Christmas spirit coming over you so that you feel you can continue more than ever. Wondering whether it will snow and the snow arriving just in time for Christmas, the stars twinkling down on the white, white earth. Bright red apples with the real flavor of the country. Memories of other Christmases. New Year's blizzards at other times somewhat, but poignantly vivid in the happiness of Christmas-tide. This is the Christmas season.—Mary Graham Bonner.

Hoover was picked up a short distance from the body. The remains, minus the skull, were unearthed by county officials after the owner of the farm had come upon his hogs chewing bits of a man's clothing. Hoover is believed to have committed suicide.

Lima, O. Dec. 2.—Strenuous denial that he was the "Jack Wilson" wanted for murder in Atlanta Ga., was teread today by Jack Wilson, alias Edward Cannon, held under guard in a hospital here at the request of Atlanta authorities. He said he has never been in Georgia.

Wilson as a bullet wound in his leg, which he claims was accidentally inflicted by himself.

He was photographed and his finger prints taken by Lima police today and this data was forwarded to Solicitor-General John Boykin, of Atlanta.

Washington, Dec. 2.—What fire works there are in the conspiracy trial of former secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and E. L. Doheny, the oil operator, have all exploded. Today the government resists and the court and jury must settle down to about two weeks of denials and character-building.

Owan J. Roberts, government counsel, has but one witness left and he expects to dispose of him in ten minutes.

Wilton J. Lambert, heading Fall's counsel, has decided to make an opening argument to the jury. He enjoys this privilege because of the manner in which defense counsel is divided. About 50 witnesses have been subpoenaed by the defense. The first of them will appear today, including H. Foster Bin, director of the bureau of mines, and Admiral J. K. Robison who played an active part in the making of the naval oil leases, and Gapo Dunn, president of the J. G. White Engineering Corporation.

Lesson for December 19

SAMUEL THE JUST JUDGE

LESSON TEXT—I Sam. 7:1-17, 12:1-22

GOLDEN TEXT—Prepare your heart unto the Lord and serve Him only.
PRIMARY TOPIC—God Helps the People at Need.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Victory at Mizpeh.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Samuel Did for His People
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How the Lord Helps.

I. Samuel Called the People to Forsake Their Idols (7:1-9).
Under the administration of Eli, the nation rapidly deteriorated. For their sins, God permitted the nation to be bitterly oppressed by the Philistines. Samuel promised them deliverance on the condition of repentance.

II. Samuel Prayed for the People (7:14).

Moved by fear of the Philistines the people besought Samuel to cry unto God for them. In response to his prayer God miraculously delivered them from the Philistines.

III. Samuel Judging Israel (7:15-17).

Bethel, Gilgal, Mizpah and Ramah were his circuit, to each of which he made annual visits. These centers were for the accommodation of the people.

IV. Samuel's Farewell Address (12:1-25).

When Saul, the new king, was crowned, Samuel turned over to him his authority, and gracefully retired. 1. Samuel's challenge to the people (vv. 1-3).

(1) A reminder of the way the king had been given (v. 1).

He showed that they were directly responsible for the change in government. Though keenly feeling the reflection upon himself, and their ingratitude to God in their demand for a king, he had not resisted their wish.

(2) Review of his own administration (vv. 2, 3).

a. Walk from childhood (v. 2). Samuel's was a remarkable life; from child to old age he had lived an upright and pure life.

b. Career as judge and ruler (v. 3). He boldly challenged them to show where and how he had ever oppressed anyone.

(3) The vote of confidence by the people (vv. 4, 5).

It was Samuel's right as he laid down the reins of government to have his record vindicated and to have his integrity established beyond a doubt, so that no evil-minded man should ever be able to cast reproach upon him.

2. Samuel reviews God's dealing from the time of Moses (vv. 6-15).

He reasoned with them concerning the good hand of the Lord upon them from the time of Moses. Though they with ingratitude turned from the Lord and demanded a king like the other nations, He had acceded to their request and set a king over them.

(1) National prosperity conditioned by obedience (v. 14).

Though they had displeased God in rebelling a king, if they would fear the Lord and render obedience, national prosperity would still be given.

(2) Disobedience to God meant the nation's ruin (v. 15).

It is folly to ask God's blessing upon a man while he is living in rebellion against Him.

3. Samuel's own vindication (vv. 16-18).

This was such a critical hour in the history of the nation that Samuel sought to indelibly impress its meaning on their hearts. This he did by means of the "thunder" and "rain" of his season. He had needed the ground of their hope was the faithfulness of God in keeping His covenant.

(1) "God forbid that I should sin against the Lord in ceasing to pray for you" (v. 23).

The people had rejected Samuel, yet he had such magnanimity of soul that he did not allow their ingratitude to cause him intercession for them to cease. He charged them that in spite of their sin their one concern should be to fear the Lord and obey His wholeheartedly.

Obituary

MISS CLINA WARFIELD

Clina, daughter of Jeremiah and Hanna Warfield, was born near Braford, Ohio, April 22, 1872, and departed this life, November 29, 1926, at the age of 54 years, 7 months and 7 days.

Her earlier years were spent in Covington, Ohio, and after completing her study of music she moved to Piqua, where she taught music for about 25 years. Six years ago she came to Dunkirk and made her home with her niece, Miss May Michael.

Miss Warfield was converted in her earlier years, during her residence to Piqua transferred her church letter to the Green Street Methodist Episcopal church in that city.

She was a member of the Rebecca Lodge; also a member of the Woman's Foreign and Woman's Home Missionary Societies of the M. E. Church in Dunkirk.

While she had been failing in health for sometime she has been loyal to her tasks to the very end; on Saturday, she met her music classes in Muncie, as usual, and attended the Sunday morning service at the Methodist Church; then on Monday morning, at 3:45 she silently and quickly took her departure.

How quiet and unassuming she was! Yet how loyal and devoted to her work and to her church!

Of the original family of eight there is but one left; Two boys died in infancy, and she was the fifth girl to go. Thus all our families fade from this life, but as they disperse here, we pray that they may be gathering together "over there."

Beside the sister she leaves many nieces and nephews who with the other relatives and friends commit her soul into the keeping of Him who has conquered death, and hath given life eternal.

ANTI-NECKING CAMPAIGN

Staged in the high school of one of the large cities of Virginia. It might be well to wage an extension of this campaign to the schools of other large (and small) cities throughout the States. Principal calls on high school students to give talks. This is a delicate subject, and at the same time, one of the most momentous subjects of our day; a day of loose morals, a day of immodest attire of the gentler sex that invites doubt and disrespect of everyone and especially the evil-minded. Why will our fine young womanhood of our day hazard her future happiness? Why will she jeopardize her morals? Why will she be so thoughtless of the sequence of an intimacy that genders lust? Many of our pure girls and boys indulge in promiscuous necking and numerous and miscellaneous petting parties not realizing the grave dangers that beset our youth. Who knows how many beautiful lives have been wrecked by the deadly disease germ transmitted through the kiss? Not all escape the pitfalls of such indulgences, some may, but how many do fall under the stimulus of evil influences that are sometimes exerted in the "quiet" of a petting party.

Girls! are you sure the young man will trust you if you allow him to shower his kisses upon you? Does he kiss you because he really loves you? Isn't he thinking "Oh, well, she lets 'em all kiss her there is a demand in the market for kisses and she expects me to." I would suggest girls, that you save your kisses for your own husbands and which would be the purest and sweetest of all.

Why will our girls forget that they have the same right to question the standard of ideals that the boys have—and they do have ideals—some are high, some low, although they have not told all the girls about it. Hear what Jimmie says: "Hey Jack! I say, what kind of a girl is that little 'pink beauty' and Jack says 'Aw—she's in with 'em all; she is a regular flirt. (and the boys all know about em.) When Jimmie and Jack begin to hunt for a wife don't they question? Yes, they do."

Ethel says to Francis, "Oh, I saw a perfectly adorable fellow this afternoon and I'm wold to meet him. He is one of the most kissable things you ever saw. But, alas—how many black hearts are under the veneer of 'fine looks.' How many of our war brides were bitterly disappointed when the fine uniform of the khaki and blue were replaced with the civilian garb. The fine looks vanished only to reveal a cruel heart."

Girl! hold up your standards of conduct if you would win Jack's respect and adoration. Girl! help boost this Anti-necking Campaign if you want to win Jimmie's love. Let us help each other to a loftier view of one of the most sacred virtues of this life—love—and that must not be dragged down below the very portals of heaven. What would this life be without love? Make it one of the most cherished things in the world. Keep it the most holy thing of all our human experiences.

Promiscuous petting is degrading and tarnishes pure love. Let us reserve our petting for the one we shall walk hand in hand with; down through the paths that lead to the end of well spent lives. "It is for woman to love and be loved. It is for man to woo and win the only one in the whole wide world for him."

ENGLAND'S FAMOUS GHOST "BLACK LADY" OF WINDSOR RE-APPEARS AT WINDOW

Windsor, Eng.—The Black Lady, Windsor's name for the Ghost of Queen Elizabeth, has re-appeared at Windsor Castle.

The appearance is connected by old residents with the appointment of a new architect at the Castle, as the legend is that the Queen's ghost is always seen about the ancient battlements whenever there is a change in the personal of the royal residence.

The spirit of Queen Elizabeth, according to Windsor people, is concerned with the welfare of the servants of the crown responsible for the structural maintenance and repair of the Castle.

The Black Lady is England's most illustrious modern ghost, and has been seen by at least one member of the Royal Family, Princess Alice Countess of Athlone, when she was occupying a suite at the Castle.

The latest appearance of the ghost was from the window of the Saxon Tower, which has been unoccupied for more than a year.
