Franz Schubert has been called "The Man of a Thousand Melodies," although the Etude, in writing of this, says that it is "a libel upon his enormous fecundity, because he might better be termed the man of 22,000 melodies." ## LOCAL FARMERS ORGANIZATIONS MAKE FINE RECORD

The members of the Covington Farmers Association and the Ladies of the Home Economics Club held a joint meeting, Monday evening, Dec. 27th with a pot luck supper and an excellent entertainment, with Joseph F. Martin at Toastmaster for the evening. A great time, with much interest was manifest. The tables were all beautifully decorated for the occasion, with no end of good things to eat in which a pretty good crowd did ample justice to considering the amount of sickness and condition of the roads in the community.

After the entertainment, both organizations went into regular monthly and annual session, in which the Secretary of the Covington Farmers Association gave his annual report, showing that the Associations' business during the past year as follows:

Total resources: $7417.72
Total liabilities: $6724.49

With this amount of business, the Association has saved its members $1200.23, which makes an average saving per member of $28.00. This is equal to 280 percent interest on their $10.00 deposit, which each member deposits as a purchasing fund.

The secretary also was highly commended for his excellent and efficient bookkeeping.

Chas. H. Weber, Vice President.

Movie Star Began as Telephone Man

Warner Baxter

When is a telephone man not a telephone man? Here's the answer: When he becomes a moving picture actor. Warner Baxter, the well known screen star, started out in life as a telephone man, being employed in Columbus. Like Tris Speaker, former manager of the Cleveland ball club; Grover Cleveland Alexander, hero of the last world series, and Walter Johnson, the greatest pitcher of his time, Baxter turned from the telephone ranks to another field and like the three, has had a success. Many of the present-day telephone people in Columbus still remember Baxter and never fail to see him when films in which he appears are shown in their city.

PLEASANT VOICE REAL ASSET
More and more it is becoming known that a pleasant voice over the telephone is a real social and business asset. The voice is your telephone personality. People, who possess telephone personality, have learned to control their voices so that, even when angry, excited or mentally distressed they do not allow these emotions to be put on the wire and passed along to someone else, who is not responsible for them.

"Ye Must Be Born Again"
Wesley, who, it is said, preached three hundred times from the words, "Ye must be born again," was asked, Wesley, why do you preach so often on "Ye must be born again," because?" and Wesley, "Ye must be born again!"—King's Business.

Forgiving
And he was kind to me another tender-hearted, forgiving one, another even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.—Paul.

Inferiority Complex
There are two ways for a man to know what an ornery cuss he can appear to be. One is to run for office and read the political advertisements of his opponent, the other is to be married and have his wife tell him what she thinks of him.—Florida Times-Union.

What Some Editors Say

Abusing Telephones
TELEPHONES are a convenience. They may degenerate into instruments of torture. This occurs when you make use of it to spend an entire evening in conversation with your friends, while the rest of the family shows a decided preference for quiet reading.

"I haven't called upon Mrs. Blank for a long while. Think I'll phone her and ask her how she is." So you telephone Mrs. Blank, and after inquiring about her health, you plunge into a deep inquiry regarding the physical and mental state of the baby, the cat, the dog, the neighbors, and your enemies and friends.

"Somebody may be on the line, but what does that matter? You've paid your telephone bill and your taxes and have a right to stand your ground." So you stand it, against invisible telephone patrons as well as against the frazzled nerves of those within earshot. You have proved to your own satisfaction that nobody can bully you. But aren't you disagreeable company?—Cleveland News.

In many of the pink hibiscus the eye is crimson while the various shades are faded, at times, into the merest pink wash up an almost white flower, says Nature Magazine. There are all mixtures of crimson and scarlet combined in various forms with a tinge of yellow or orange. No blue has been found.

It is said the first commercial factory for making ice was established in New Orleans in 1836. The process was not wholly satisfactory and in 1870 there were only three other plants in operation. Later improvements resulted in a rapid growth of the business.

The Joke Turned

A motorist touring in Ireland one day met a native who was driving a donkey. Thinking he would have a little fun at the man's expense, he said, "My friend, what is the difference between your tugboat and mine?" "Oh, just a great deal," promptly replied the Irishman. "Sure the donkey's in the shafts in wan and on the safe in the other."

Doings at Columbus

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

Columbus, Ohio, January 4th—If any attempt is made to increase the present gasoline tax, as has been suggested, the members of the general assembly will find united opposition. Chas. C. James, secretary of the Ohio State Automobile Association, said that every automobile association in the state would oppose the proposed increase from two to four cents per gallon on gasoline. "The present law is providing ample funds for the maintenance of highways," Mr. James said, "in fact too much for some of the municipalities of the state, and the money is being used for other purposes. A tax of four cents per gallon on gasoline would be entirely unfair to auto owners, and our association will do its utmost to defeat such a measure should it come before the general assembly. Ohio auto owners are today contributing more than $35,000,000 annually in taxes under existing laws, and any increase of this burden must be construed as an attempt on the part of other interests to divert a part of their just share of supporting state government." "The suggested plan of using a part of the gas tax money for the building of new roads will also be opposed by the state association Mr. James said, declaring that such a plan forces the burden of the improvement upon one class of citizens while the improvement benefits another class entirely."

Ruling of the attorney general to the effect that the cost for services in cases of garnishment where the salary for services is garnished, cannot exceed any circumstances exceed $20.00 will tend to lessen the number of such cases in the opinion of attorneys. In many cases the costs are too often a vital consideration in such cases, and it has been reported that many times they amount to more than the claim involved. Ruling of the attorney general is to the effect that the total costs, including the justice of the peace, as well as constable shall not exceed a total of $2.50.

The 86th general assembly which has been in recess for almost two years is in session again. Or it was Monday, but not for the transaction of any business except to hear a few reports. Next week the members of the 87th come to Columbus to begin their work and how long they will be here is a problem. Some want to make the session a short one and then adjourn sine die. But with important tax issues before them it is probable that it will be around the rainy days of May before they get through. The state revenues must be increased and just how this is to be done is one of the most difficult problems of the general assembly. Governor Vic Donahey will present his message next week. It is to be brief and to the point, and he may point the way to solving the taxation question. He has been giving the matter considerable thought and because of this fact there is much interest in his message. It is expected to be short, and others will be submitted as occasion requires during the session. Inauguration ceremonies next Monday are to be very simple and no money will be taken from the state treasury to meet the expenses, this being at the order of Governor Donahey who enters his third term.

G. F. Schlesinger, director of highways, warns motorists to be especially careful in driving over the state roads during the winter season on account of the slippery condition of the surface during wet, freezing weather. There is no type of paving surface that is skid-proof and accidents due to careless driving at this time of the year are occurring and will continue to occur on all kinds of roads. The Division of Highways has erected warning signs at points that are especially hazardous and are taking measures to place cinders and similar material on the surface to reduce the slipperiness where conditions are especially bad. However, the motorist is urged to keep well within the legal speed limit at all times and apply brakes with caution. The diamond shaped warning sign, mark points on the roads where the motorist should slow down and proceed with his car under complete control.

"In Walked Jimmy"

BROADWAY COMEDY SUCCESS—"In Walked Jimmy" is a popular, sparkling comedy drama. From start to finish it is full of the liveliest quips and fun, and audiences everywhere have found it a genuine "hit." It will be presented by a splendid New York cast.

"In Walked Jimmy" is a comedy in four acts by Minnie Z. Jaffe. What Jimmy walked into was a broken-down shoe factory at a time when the clerks had all been "fired," and the proprietor was on the verge of suicide. Jimmy, nothing else but plain Jimmy, would have been a mysterious figure had it not been for his matter-of-fact manner, his smile and his everlasting humanness. He puts the shoe business on its feet, wins the heart of the girl clerk, saves her from going to jail, escapes that place as a permanent boarding house himself, and foils the villain.

Here is good, interesting drama, running over with uproarious fun and laughter.
