DEATH OF S. J. PINKERTON FORMER COVINGTON RESIDENT

Mr. S. J. Pinkerton passed away at Hannibal, Mo., at the Leveing hospital Monday, after only a few days illness from pneumonia.

Mr. Pinkerton, who had enjoyed the Christmas vacation at his home in West Milton, returned to Hannibal to his work for the St. Louis & Hannibal Railroad and was there only a short time when he was taken ill.

His son George went to his father but as he seemed to be better, returned again to his home in Owosso, Mich. But the father grew worse on Monday, passing suddenly away.

Mr. Pinkerton was born in Londonderry, Ireland, coming to America at the age of 18. He was 69 year of age at the time of his death.

He came to Covington in 1905 and was employed on the old C. H. & D. railroad until the line was dismantled. About seven years ago he removed to West Milton where the family has since resided.

He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Lillian Pinkerton; six children also mourn his loss. George, of Owosso, Mich.; Edward, Devil's Lake N. Dak.; Frank, West Milton, Mrs. C. R. Bonnell, Dayton; Gerald and Harriet, yet at home.

Funeral services have not been completed, but will be probably held Saturday from their home in West Milton.

Routzahn Brothers will direct the funeral services.

REV. STROUP SPEAKS ON "WORSHIP"

The services last evening at the Presbyterian Church were very well attended, although the inclemency of the weather kept many from attending.

Rev. Stroup on "The Spirit of Worship" and gave some very interesting points. He spoke of the two aspects of worship as sacramental and sacrificial. He took as the basic scripture the fourth of John, "Christ's interview with the Samaritan woman." "The Father seeketh worshippers" was his declaration. Even though man who was made in the image of God had fallen and had become a sinful creature, as the woman at the well, they are still yearned over as Christ, who asked, "Give me to drink 'If thou knowest', said Christ, "Such he speaks and 'gives the gift of life' through Christ, our righteousness.

Man in turn has felt his need of worship and there is no where upon earth where there are not efforts made to worship the 'unknown God'. Rev. Stroup declared, from the grotesque worship of the heathen even in our own land, that worship could be perverted. The gathering together of his people in "Spirit and in Truth" was the ideal way of the scripture. 'Altho' God accepted the worship of the individual in the closet, yet many who claimed to worship alone, he believed were very lax about their worship. The Radio could not replace the divine institution of God's assembled people.

Rev. Stroup spoke of his own church as being called a liturgical one, but he insisted that entertainment could not bring about a proper sense of reverence for God and his Word. This only could be the ideal end of preaching and song.

The evening was well spent by those who attended, and was a well chosen subject for the beginning of the week's series of services.

The subject this evening will be "Community Enterprises and the Church" given by Rev. C. F. McKee at the Christian Church at 7:00 o'clock.

Miss Virginia Anne Townsend was in Dayton over the New Year holiday as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. C. Ensley.

LEGAL COMPLICATIONS MAY DELAY MURDER TRIAL OF NORRIS

Texas Preacher Goes On Trial January 10th For Murder

Fort Worth, Texas.—By the time Dr. J. Frank Norris goes to trial in Austin, January 10, for the slaying of D. E. Chipps in the study of the First Baptist Church here last July, there will be many legal complications.

Already attorneys other than the dozen or two connected with the trial not to be on either side.

Legal problems, growing more complex daily, have arisen out of the civil suit which has been filed against Dr. Norris by D. E. Chipps, Jr. for $150,000 for the loss of his father.

Special prosecutors laughed up their sleeves when the announcement of the suit was printed in bold type in newspapers all over the country. Obviously the suit was filed for the purpose of getting Norris' deposition, which would be used against him in the criminal action.

The trial of this criminal case had been transferred from Tarrant to Travis county last November on a change of venue because of too many prejudiced veniremen making the selection of a jury impossible.

Then the step was taken Attorneys who filed the civil suit sent Dr. Norris questions to answer in a deposition to be made before a Notary.

And Norris, acting within his constitutional rights refused to answer them.

Norris might tend to incriminate me in the criminal action now pending and under the constitution I am not required to answer them. Therefore I refuse," he declared.

Norris knows he could not be forced to answer them. He then retaliated to the civil suit by filing an amended motion to his first formal answer.

In this answer, he charged young Chipps could not possibly have expected to benefit to the extent prayed for in the suit. He then cited that Chipps had another divorced wife, the mother of another son of his living in West Virginia. Under the terms of their separation he was to have paid sums each month to that wife and son which at the present time would amount to more than $15,000.00.

Norris further charged in his answer that the suit filed by young Chipps had declared he killed Chipps with malice and that his declaration was only a conclusion and was not developed by any facts in the case.

But that didn't satisfy the fighting pastor. He came back with requests for depositions of Mayor H. C. Meacham, City Manager O. E. Carr, Amos Carter, newspaper publisher and others. By these witnesses he says he expects to prove statements concerning the character of 'Chipps, which he would use in the criminal action.

Chipps was killed when he went to the pastor's study to protest against remarks Dr. Norris had made from the pulpit about Mayor Meacham-Carr and others. Norris said Chipps made a threatening move and he feared for his life.

Obituary

LYDIA A. RANKIN

Lydia A. Rankin, who was the daughter of Andrew and Phoebe McMillan, and the widow of David B. Rankin, died Dec. 31, 1926 at the hospital at Covington where she had been a patient for about six weeks.

She was born at Wilkes Barre, Penn. Jan. 27, 1840. She was removed to Troy, Ohio in 1854 with her parents, and in 1855 came to Covington. In September 1858 she was married to Simon Landry of Troy, Ohio. They lived happily together for fifty years. Mr. Landry dying in 1908. To them was born one son, Howard who died in 1899.

In 1910 she was again married by coming the wife of David Rankin who preceded her in death Dec. 24, 1922.

She greatly enjoyed telling of the early pioneer days and of the experiences of the Civil War. She also delighted in her religion. She was a member of the Baptist church until she came to the Covington to live when she united with the Christian church. At the last her religion was a great comfort to her and she frequently expressed her desire to be taken home. For a number of years she has talked much of the future and looked forward to the time when she should be called.

She was of a family of five children and for some time was the only surviving member of that family and she felt very keenly the loneliness of being the only one left. In her conscious moments during her last illness she prayed much to be taken home to them.

She is survived by four grandsons: Edward Landry of Big Rapids Mich., Ernest Landry of Detroit, Burton H. Landry of Muskegon, Mich. and John L. Landry of Panama, Cal. Mr. John Landry, a cousin, has lived with her for the past five years and made it possible for her to keep her own home which she enjoyed so much because home meant so much to her. There are many other relatives and friends who knew and loved aunt Lydia as she was familiarly called.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to thank the neighbors and friends for kindness shown during the illness and death of Mrs. Lydia Rankin. Also the Minister Dr. Thomas and those who assisted during the funeral services. Ernest H. Landry, Burton H. Landry, Mrs. A. K. Rankin and Family and John Overfield.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

Columbus—The state clemency board today continued its consideration of applications for clemency on behalf of Harley Pence, Fosteria, and Robert F. Thompson. Coshocton, condemned prisoners at the Ohio penitentiary. Pence is under sentence to be electrocuted Friday and Thompson Saturday.

Pence was convicted of murdering Mrs. Margaret Body at their rooming house here last February. Thompson was adjudged guilty of mistreating and then killing a twelve-year-old girl near Coshocton last year.

Claiming that Pence acted in self-defense when Mrs. Body, they asserted, tried to kill him and then committed suicide, Geo. Body, husband of the dead woman, and Pence's daughter, uncle and cousin appealed to the clemency board for commutation of Pence's death sentence.

Although Thompson's relatives contended he was insane, a commission of alienists appointed by Governor V. Donahey to examine Thompson's mental condition reported that he showed no signs of insanity or feeble mindedness.

(L. N. S. Dispatch)

Cleveland, O.—The taste of the average hard liquor drinker has changed—most of the present-day imbibers actually prefer moonshine and cheap "hooshy" to good whiskey.

This is the opinion expressed by federal prohibition agents here, based on their observations since the beginning of the prohibitioners. One man puts it this way:

"During the past seven years it has become increasingly difficult to get good liquor. The steady drinker has become accustomed to 'shine. Most of them when they get good whiskey for the first time, don't like it. It hasn't the same sort of 'wallop.'"

Cleveland, O.—The rod time honored preventative for the spoilation of children, still hangs, figuratively at least, in Cleveland school rooms.

Alfred A. Benesch and Mrs. Virginia D. Green, members of the school board recently started a move to oust the paddle from public schools. Others on the board, however, feel that teachers should be permitted to use it on occasion.

Mrs. Clara Brewer says that while she is against whipping, in principle, that "it would be wrong at this time when the control of the home is breaking down and undisciplined children are coming into schools, to deny teachers and use of proper means of discipline."

Columbus, O.—The surgeon was preparing his instruments preparatory to beginning the sixth major operation undergone by nine year old Herbert Ballou; nurses were working with anesthetic appliances.

"Hey wait a minute," shouted Herbert. Nurses and surgeons at Grant Hospital waited.

"I want to see an other tank," pleaded the boy of many operations. They gave him his wish, Herbert grinned and nodded away.

"He'll get well and make a good football player," the surgeon declared following the operation.

Besides the operations Herbert has had two blood transfusions volunteered by his father.

Columbus, O.—Country doctors are following the country store into town according to C. E. Lively of the department of sociology at the Ohio State University.

These doctors Lively declares, have learned that people of the open country and the villages are driving past their offices to the towns and cities and leaving to them the emergency work and the poor pay.

From 1914 to 1925, Prof. Lively estimates the number of doctors in places of less than 2,500 inhabitants has dwindled from 2,407 to 1,656, or a decrease of one third. Even a greater loss is evident in places with less than 500 inhabitants, he said.

Of those still clinging to their country practice, Prof. Lively avers. One group is represented by the old fashioned general practitioner with no speciality, and the other composed of young men who are just beginning and regard their rural stay as an apprenticeship.

Herpetstead, N. Y.—Harold F. Webster, confessed slayer of his mother-in-law Mrs. Catherine Galloway, committed the crime following a bitter quarrel over money lost in a Florida land deal, according to a theory advanced today by detectives who are seeking to establish a motive for the crime.

Webster, a former real estate salesman at Miami, Fla., is said to have lost $5,000 of his own money and $1,000 of Mrs. Galloway's in the deal, which collapsed because of the hurricane last fall. Detectives believe that she was dunning him for the money on Monday when he flew into a rage and beat her to death with an iron bar in the home of Mrs. Dell C. Bassett, her daughter.

Bucyrus, O.—Although Crawford county's annual fair faces a deficit of $9,400 the agricultural society will continue the publication and hold the contest during the last week of September.

CONTINENTAL HURRICANES CAUSE DEATH AND DAMAGE

Moscow, Jan 5—Hurricanes sweeping the Caucasus have left a trail of death and damage in their wake. 24 known dead and many missing are reported and the property damage is estimated at millions of dollars.

Winds reaching a velocity of 120 miles an hour turned over a ten-coach passenger train and leveled 200 oil derricks and Baku. Fifteen men working in a stone quarry were blown over a precipice to death. Many ships anchored in Black Sea ports have been swept out to sea. In the mountain regions, many herds of cattle have perished.

Telegraph lines were blown down and railroad lines were torn up. In Northern Russia great damage was done by a severe blizzard which has snowed in many trains, causing many deaths.

ATTENTION! Presbyterian Ladies

The Ladies Aid meeting of the Presbyterian church has been postponed from Wednesday afternoon until Thursday afternoon.

At this meeting the annual report for the year will be given. Also officers for this year will be chosen. After which a play will be given entitled "The Two Masters". This will be presented by the Dramatic Club.

Loyal

Despite the fact that the coroner's findings indicated that Wallace Probasco had had an affair with Mrs. Robert Hawley Ingersoll, wife of the dollar watch man, and that Mrs. Ingersoll wounded him and killed herself when he threatened to leave her, Mrs. Probasco (above) furnished his $12,500 bail. Probasco was held because Mrs. Ingersoll's friends accused him of the shooting, which took place in a New York apartment.

Banff Huskies in Training for the Dog Derby

HUSKIES IN THE SNOW BANFF

HARRY KNIGHT, A WINNER AND HIS DOGS

"LOVE ME, LOVE MY DOG!"

As the dog derby will be the most attractive feature of the Banff Winter Carnival, held February 5-12 inclusive, it is interesting to know about the animals which compete in this outstanding feature. Every day during the summer season in Banff many tourists visited the Mills kennels, where they were shown the stone's throw from the Banff Springs hotel.

"Say Mister" some one would exclaim, "when can we see those dogs eating their frozen fish?" This was the inevitable query from young and old alike as they would point to the huskies chained to individual kennels in the shade of the pines by the river.

"They seem terribly disappointed," he states, "when I tell them my huskies don't eat fish neither do they have breakfast, lunch and dinner, but only dinner at 6 P. M. on a pound of juicy raw meat."

The word "husky" in the vernacular of the dog-musher, means a species of dog with a wolf strain, possessing many of the wolf's quality of endurance. Collies, St. Bernards and other fairly heavy breeds of dogs crossed with a wolf result in the heavier type of husky.

All husky breeds exude oil from their hide and feet, preventing ice balls from forming on their bodies and under foot; a wise provision made for the dumb brutes who cannot help themselves in winter like humans. Few husky breeds possess pedigrees. The best pedigrees in the eyes of the dogmusher is willingness to work, ability to dig in and pull, speed for racing, and an even temper.

Winning a race depends not alone on the dogs but on the driver's endurance. Last year's race in Banff saw one of the poorest teams breast the finish line for a trophy, due to the endurance and determination of Harry Knight, the 18-year-old dog-musher, who ran most of the 86 miles to save his dogs. On a good trail, the musher can stand on one back runner pushing the caribou with the loose foot, depending on the dogs to maintain the momentum of the sled. But rough stretches require a driver possessing the strength to save his dogs by running behind and cushioning the caribou.

Spishaming, Mich. Jan. 5.—Three children were dead at Humboldt, near here today, after a fire, which destroyed their home.

They were the children of Thomas Snell farmer, Thomas, 5, Earl 4 and William, 2. The children were left alone in the home with a blazing fire in a stove the cracked bottom of which is believed to have dropped out.

Returning in the midst of the fire, Mrs. Snell broke a window and then fought through the flames and the smoke to her babies only to find all three dead from suffocation.

Late News Flashes

(L. N. S. Dispatch)

Shanghai Jan. 5.—British authorities have agreed to withdraw British marines from the British concession at Hankow, realizing that the presence of the marines may provoke further trouble, it was reported here today.

Another report states that all the available naval forces are proceeding urgently to Hankow.

Advices from Hankow say Chinese officials claim that more than 40 major and minor casualties were suffered by Chinese as a result of Monday's and Tuesday's incidents at the border of the British concession when coolie mobs attempting to enter the concession were dispersed by British sailors.

The Chinese accuse the sailors of "British cruelty."

The battle between the Northern and Cantonese forces in the vicinity of Hankow was being extended today, with neither side having won any decisive advantage.

General Sun Chuan Fang, commander of the Northern forces, said he will leave Nanking for Hankow to personally direct the attack against Fayang. Messages from Chekiang province say General Chang Kai-Shek, generalissimo of the Cantonese forces, is personally directing the Southern army.

A hundred wounded reached Shanghai from the front today. Heavy artillery fire was reported along the Chientang river.

Announcement was made by the state department today that orders have been issued for the marines to occupy Mangaua, the Nicaraguan capital, where President Diaz holds forth. The marines will land from the cruiser Galveston.

This puts American military forces in control of both the revolutionary and conservative capitals of the country, Puerto Cabezas and Managua.

CINCINNATI GIRL KIDNAPPED WHILE RIDING IN FRIENDS AUTO

Cincinnati, Jan. 5.—Police here today were searching for two men who according to the story of Ethel Kendall, pretty 23-year-old daughter of John J. Kendall, president of a Latonia Ky., printing concern, kidnapped and then freed her last night.

Charles E. Hughes, coal broker, 81 with whom she was taking an auto ride, told police late last night that while they were riding near Newton a suburb, two men held them up, robbed Hughes and then demanded that Miss Kendall get in their machine.

Hughes immediately reported the affair to the police and, upon getting home, shortly after midnight, he found the Kendall girl there with his parents.

Hughes family told officers and was unable to offer any details of her escape or how she made her way to their home. The girl's father could not add anything to aid the investigation.

Baltimore Jan. 5.—The French four-masted schooner Richelieu was a total loss today, three men missing and believed dead and 87 men are injured in Boston hospitals, the result of an explosion and fire aboard the vessel, docked at the B. and O. pier at Curtis Bay.

All of the missing are negro dockmen, and 31 of these injured are also negroes.

The schooner was loading with pitch when the explosion occurred. Its cause has not been determined. After burning fiercely until midnight, the schooner listed sharply and then sank.

Ten French training cadets aboard the vessel for instruction and all the ship's officers escaped.

Cincinnati, O.—The possibility that the negro who made a confession of the attack and murder of Beulah Purvis, 19, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., may not go on trial for the crime loomed here today.

Assistant County Prosecutor Carl Basler announced that an alienist would make an examination upon Joseph Carr, the negro, and that the confessed slayer's fate would probably hinge upon the alienist's report.

"If the examination reveals the negro's mentality to be as low as it appears to be, it is entirely possible that he will not be indicted for the crime, but will be sent to the hospital for criminal insane at Lima," the assistant prosecutor declared today.

When re-questioned late yesterday, the negro admitted that he had attacked white girls in several different towns but was unable to offer any more information, the officials said.

It was reported that heavy street fighting had broken out there.

Although the American consul has not yet ordered the evacuation of women and children many of them have left the British concession and are also en route to Shanghai.

UNION SERVICES AT LUTHERAN CHURCH TONIGHT

Rev. William H. Christian, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will be the leader this evening at the community prayer services, held in the Lutheran church at 7:00 o'clock. The subject will be "Obedience to Law."

The services were led by Rev. McKee at the Christian church last evening, with an interested group of listeners to his talk on Community Enterprise and the Church. Rev. McKee based his remarks upon the story of the Good Samaritan, saying that the interests of both church and the community were one. The responsibility of the church to reach out to the good of those surroundings, was a part of its foundational doctrine. An impoverished community was spoken of in turn the cause of a weak church. Narrowness of vision in either a Christian or a church was condemned by the speaker. It is not alone to bless those within its membership, but reach out to the good of the community. There could be no growing church unless reaching out to those without. A picture by Hoffman of Christ, among the multitudes and Pharisees gave a lovely looking upward—but the hand was outward towards the multitude.

Mr. McKee lamented the act that the old way of the home in the church and the church in the home was rapidly passing. He said one had said that the building of the bungalow meant many times that it had been 'bungled' by the carpenter and 'loved' by the owner. The hospitality of the past was impossible with the living of today. Nevertheless, this had been a part of the cause of the growth of the church. Mercy was a part of the church's past and present business.

Pineville—Five constables were under indictment here today for the slaying of Dr. R. L. Lattimore, aged physician at Blanch, near here, on Christmas day.

At the time of the murder, county officials declared that it was "the most atrocious crime in the bloody history of this portion of the state."

Dr. Lattimore was shot down, according to eye witnesses, when he asked that his arrest on a minor charge be deferred until he finished his Christmas dinner.
