FAMOUS HEALTH RESORT IN MASS OF RUBIES WHEN FIRE DESTROYS DRY RIDGE, KENTUCKY

F. W. D. DEPLORED

WILLIAMSTOWN, Ky., Feb. 21.-The little town of Dry Ridge, forty miles northeast of here, today was pre-enumerated to be a considering mass of rubies, its buildings and streets being covered with rubies, though some buildings were having their windows wiped out by a ferocious fire.

No lives were reported lost, although 300 guests, including the Grand Spring hotel, famous as a health resort, narrowly escaped when the blaze broke.

They were warned in time to fight the fire through hot ashes and flame to safety.

Fire raged to apparatus from the city and from Walton, 10 miles from Dry Ridge, was rushed in the search

but lack of a water supply hampered

Search of persons were forced to the night after. From one of the burning homes a sick woman was rescued by rescue workers just before the wall crashed.

The fire, disco

ed by a cardboard box, swept through the village, leaving eight of the hotel's rooms, and entered its way into the home of the

All of the burned buildings were erected of wood materials.

AN APPEAL TO BIGHEARTED FOLKS
The Story of a Man and Woman Who Need a Word of Aid from You
By H. C. MARLIN

I have before me now a post card picture and photograph of a man and woman who have been inmates of the St. Louis Asylum for the Insane for several years. They have not been the object of any great public attention, and it is not known to what extent they have been helped in their needs. I have been asked to bring their story to the public, and I hope that you will give it the attention it deserves.

They are both about 65 years of age, and are in a very poor condition. They have been in the asylum for several years, and have never had any help from their friends or relatives. They have been neglected and forgotten, and their only hope is in the kindness and sympathy of other people.

The man is very weak and feeble, and the woman is very ill. They have no money, and their only support is the charity of others. They are in a very poor condition, and need the help of others to keep them alive.

I hope that you will give this story the attention it deserves, and that you will do whatever you can to help these poor people. They are in a very desperate condition, and need your help.

Thank you for your attention.

MAIL-ORDER BIBLE SALES

Largest in History

An ad to the excitement of those who collect Bibles, the word is out that in the history of the mail-order business, there is only one black-letter binding that was never intended for use by the church. The word is that the Bibles bound in these fine bindings are some of the most unusual examples of Bibles we have seen. One of these fine bindings can be seen at the bookstore. The binding is truly amazing, and is considered by many to be one of the finest examples of the mail-order business.

The Persimmon River in Arizona is one of the most beautiful rivers in the United States. It is entirely due to weather conditions that it has not been explored more thoroughly in the past. Persimmon River is a tributary of the Colorado River, and it flows into it near the town of Persimmon. The river is about 100 miles long, and it has a series of rapids and falls that make it a very interesting and scenic stream.
