STRANGER SEEKING AUNT IN COVINGTON TODAY

Sometimes strange incidents happen even in small villages like Covington. And today marked a rather unusual one.

At noon today, while standing on the street we were approached by a young man, who said he was from West Virginia and was trying to locate an aunt, who had invited him to come to the village on a visit. He said that he knew her 20 years ago, but had not seen her since, and that she had written him several letters from this office recently.

Since she had used the name by which he had known her years ago and perhaps had since changed her name he was at loss to find her and the post office officials could give him no assistance.

Incidentally, while he was in the city of Pittsburg, he placed his grip on a seat while he went to the window to purchase a ticket to Covington and when he returned some one had stolen it. In that grip was the letter of invitation he had received, and the address.

After some time in searching for some one who could give a clue to her location, we learned that she was a lady of the Catholic faith, and we suggested that he go to Piqua and make inquiry at one of the churches there.

The name given was Meri Franges, and if any reader of this paper can solve the mystery we would appreciate a phone call in his behalf.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Daily Columbus Letter

Columbus, Ohio.—Sufficient funds, with which to carry on highway improvements may be secured by a redistribution of present revenues received from the gasoline tax and license fees without an increase of 100 per cent in the gasoline tax rate, according to Chas. C. Jones, secretary of the State Automobile Association. Proving his contention Mr. Jones points out that there is a balance of $1,000,000 at the present time. To this add $8,000,000 gas tax (the state's share under the redistribution plan) $6,000,000 license fees and a total of $15,000,000. Sate needs for repair and maintenance during the next two years total $26,000,000. Deduct this from the two years revenue and there is a balance of $5,850,000. This amount plus an approximate $4,000,000 or 5,000,000 federal aid would give the highway department approximately $11,000,000 for construction purposes. It is pointed out that the balance of $1,000,000 this year would be greater both in 1928 and 1929 for many of the worst roads have been put in good condition, and no costly maintenance funds will be necessary. The Association is not opposed to a redistribution of these funds, and the members feel that such a plan would furnish ample funds for new roads during the next two years. Adding a burden of 100 percent to automobile owners this year is held unfair not only by members of the Ohio State Automobile Association, but more than a score of the leading newspapers of the state have opposed such an increase editorially. President E. A. Mitterdorf, in a letter to the president of the Ohio Good Roads Federation says that "the motorist is emphatic in his belief that the construction of roads should be levied on general property and is satisfied that the burden of entire maintenance be placed upon him. There can be no compromise on this principle."

Three Ohio men who recently were able to find first page position to their crimes are now among the thousands of others who are huddled together in the Ohio Penitentiary. They are Jake Nesbitt, Pat McDermott, and last week Ben Radner, was added to the list of those who have been sentenced to life imprisonment. Nesbitt is getting pretty well acquainted in the big prison, but McDermott seems sullen and melancholy and doesn't like the surroundings at all. He has been shoveling some snow, but most of the time, like hundreds of other spends his time in the "hole" house. Radner probably follows the same routine, but these two former Canton residents won't be able to mingle or talk together.

Rural taxpayers of the state are showing more than usual interest in the selection of a site for the proposed new state fair grounds. It is little wonder for the purpose of several first class thousands of dollars is now being expended for the site. The state is now in the process of selecting a site for the proposed new state fair grounds.

for any enlargements which may be required in future years, and is so situated that other buildings cannot be erected very near this eliminating the danger of fire hazards. Representatives of both branches of the general assembly are hearing from the folks back home who are urging them to take such action as will not only bring about an immediate saving of cost in the purchase of a site, but that judgement as to future needs shall be used and ample space for such enlargement as may be eventually required be given the consideration it is entitled to. Columbus as a unit, where the taxpayers realize the advantage, are urging the use of the river front site for the proposed new building.

Members of both branches of the legislature are beginning to talk adjournment, always a good sign. The early part of April is being suggested upon. Takes a few days of warm weather, when members want to return home to look after their personal affairs. If it warms up by early April adjournment may be forthcoming, but if it stays cold, and rainy folks back home don't need to expect their representatives to return for a while. Indications are that when they do finish both branches will adjourn rather than recess, a habit of recent.

When the traffic officer shouts "Where are you going?" the diplomat ic reply is: "You tell me."

Clocks Play an Important Part in Interior Decoration

A Formal Model

In a Colonial Period Hall

CHICAGO — Clocks are playing an increasingly important part in home decoration. In planning the arrangement of any kind of a room, whether it be a period drawing room, hall, or bed room, the right clock must be chosen to go with the ensemble.

"As no room is completely furnished without a clock, the timepieces should be in keeping with the style of the room," said Leroy Woods of the American Society of Interior Decorators, in an address here. "A room without a clock always looks as if something were lacking. The clock is so frequently looked at and is so necessary in such a prominent place that it must be of appropriate design.

"Clocks are more used now than at any period in the world. People who value time have clocks conveniently placed in every part of the house. Timepieces are accurate and are designed in countless models and sizes for all purposes.

"Care of clocks also is important. Probably 90 per cent of clock owners let their clocks run without any care until they stop. The average clock needs to be looked at once in three years. More elaborate clocks need more frequent attention. Banjo, tambour, and wall types, as well as mantel and bedroom clocks should be inspected every two years. Elaborate hall and chime clocks should be oiled once a year and cleaned every three years.

"Proper winding and setting is important. A clock should be wound slowly and steadily and not too tight. In setting, turn the hands ahead, as turning them back may do serious damage to some timepieces."

If the state is ever to have healthy children, properly cared for in good homes, her law makers must first consider what should be demanded before marriage relations are countenanced, instead of who shall be allowed to sever the relation.

Chicago, Ill. — The Spanish means of winning money from the credulous has a new rival, the George Remus hidden gold game and it works so well that some 50 lawyers today are wondering how they happened to part with their money.

Robert A. Schultze, 40, an escapee from Atlanta Federal penitentiary today from his cell admitted he collected from $50,000 to $75,000 on his story that Remus had $1,000,000 in gold hidden in New York.

I told them the federal officers were hot on my trail, said Schultze. I said I needed money to get to Canada and from there I promised to send detailed information.

Schultze and Remus the well known Macon, Minn. bootlegger, were cellmates in Atlanta penitentiary. Beyond that authorities believe their intimacy was slight. Schultze escaped after serving three years of a five year term for robbing the mails. He will be returned to Georgia immediately.

Delegates from more than 40 states are expected to be in attendance. The Pitchmen's organization according to Klein is made up of circus, carnival, and fair conmen; tomcats, medicine showmen or pitch doctors, window demonstrators, traveling auctioneers, magazine and farm journal subscription solicitors, and traveling representatives of supply houses.

Cincinnati — It's just as easy to obtain a marriage license in Ohio as it is to get a dog license, or a hunting license, and much easier than to obtain two of the many elements which make up this portion of the globe may start a conflagration which will compare in magnitude with the World War.

At present Dr. Keller continued, both the state and the church are suffering from inadequate, unscientific and poorly standardized marriage laws. These tend to consider the marriage of men and women as a mere legal contract, and not as a sacred union.

Lesson for March 13

MAKING THE WORLD CHRISTIAN

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 28:16-20; Acts 18:1-18

GOLDEN TEXT—Go ye therefore and teach all nations.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Telling Every body about Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Winning the World for Christ.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How We Can Spread the Gospel.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christian Missions the Hope of the World.

1. The Great Commission (Matt. 28:16-20).

1. When and where given (v. 16). It was shortly before the ascension in a mountain in Galilee where the disciples met Jesus according to appointment.

2. The foundation upon which the commission rests (vv. 17, 18).

In order to prepare the disciples to receive this commission, Christ declared to them that all power in heaven and in earth was given unto Him. Before the disciples would enter upon the execution of this commission they must be convinced of His Lordship. To create doubt in the minds of believers as to the deity of Jesus Christ is to cut the nerve of missionary endeavor.

3. What the commission is (vv. 19, 20).

1. "Go—teach all nations" (v. 19). This means make disciples of all the nations, not Jews merely.

(2) "Baptize them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit" (v. 19).

Those who have become disciples of the Lord should receive the rite which signifies their relation to Him.

(3) "Teach them to observe all that I have commanded you" (v. 20). Those who have become Christ's disciples should be taught obedience to all His commandments.

4. The promise attached (v. 20). Those who obey the king in evangelizing the world have the promise of His unfailing presence.

II. Forbidden by the Holy Spirit to Preach in Asia Minor (Acts 16:6-8).

The inclination of Paul and his companions was to tarry in Asia Minor preaching the Word, but contrary to their inclination they were hurried along. We have here a fine lesson on divine guidance. The Holy Spirit is just as active and faithful in closing doors as in opening them.

"The steps as well as the steps of good men are ordered of the Lord." We ought as truly to recognize God's hand in the "shut-lin" as in the "open-out."

III. The Call to Macedonia (Acts 16:9-12).

The gospel having broken the confines of the Jewish city and country, the middle wall of partition having been abolished, the time has come for it to leap across the Aegean sea and begin its conquest on another continent.

1. The vision (v. 9).

Being hemmed in on all sides, a vision was given to Paul of a man of Macedonia pleading for help. This made plain to him the closed doors about him. In finding the divine will, we should look both ways.

2. The advance (vv. 10-12).

As soon as the divine way was known they moved forward therein.

IV. The First Convert in Europe (vv. 13-15).

The devout people were accustomed to worship by the riverside. To this humble gathering, Paul came and preached to the women assembled there. A certain woman from Thyatira named Lydia, a proselyte, believed his message and was baptized.

The steps in Lydia's conversion are worthy of note for they are typical:

1. Attendance at the place of worship (v. 13).

Usually those whom God is calling are found at the place of prayer.

2. Listening to the preaching of the Word of God (vv. 13, 14).

The instrument used in the conversion of sinners is the Word of God (Rom. 10:17).

3. Her heart was opened by the Lord (v. 14).

Only the Lord can convert a soul. It is our business to preach the Word of God, and it is God's business to open the heart of the inquirer.

4. She was baptized (v. 15).

Every one whose heart the Lord has opened desires to confess His faith in baptism.

5. Her household believed (v. 15).

When one is converted, those in the household are often converted also.

Dempsey Must Eliminate Once-Considered Ham

It may come to this. Jack Dempsey may have to face Paolino Uzcudum, just as the artist has brought them together here, in order to get a chance to win back the heavyweight title.

Lo, how the mighty have fallen or something like that.

Time was when Jack Dempsey turned up his nose, probably for publicity purposes, at such as Gene Tunney. But that was before it rained in Philadelphia.

Ever after that, the same Dempsey announced that he would condense to fight to regain his title with Tunney or no one.

About that time Paolino Uzcudum appeared on the scene. He was a fighter, which pleased him, quite properly, as a foreman. And having been so chased he was regarded by almost all fight followers, excepting his press agent and including Dempsey, as a ham.

"These fellows get a reputation in their own back yards and then come over here. They can't fight. They don't make fighters in Europe. One or two fights and they're through. Look at Firpo, Clarke, Pearson. Hurrah for the red, white and blue!" chanted the patriotic fans.

But now! Dempsey can stage his comeback. He may have another chance to be heavyweight champion of the world.

But— First he must put Paolino out of the way. Paolino, you know, beat Knute Hansen. And then he must defeat the winner of the Sharkey-Maloney fight. This, according to word from the headquarters of Tex Rickard, New York sports promoter, who has Tunney under his contractual thumb.

ing, March 14th, sponsored by the Ladies Aid Society of the Christian Church The Green Street Dramatic Company will give this comedy drama.

The latest available figures issued by the home office disclosed that 4,774 persons were killed and injured in the terrific tremor which rumbled over Western Japan.

More than 100,000 persons were destroyed in the four provinces which raged subsequent to the quake.

The province of Yoshu was particularly hard hit. At least 1,643 persons were killed in this territory, including the town of Mineyama where 1,000 were killed.

Thirty-five persons were killed in the province of Nake. A close check of the injured in this province has not yet been made.

Approximately 3,000 were killed and injured in the Province of Takeno. Most of the casualties in this province, reports said, came under the head of "injured."

Six persons were killed in the province of Kumano; 7 were injured there.

Property damage will reach a staggering total. No official estimate is available, but it will reach into the millions.

Washington—President Coolidge expects to establish a Summer White House in the west this year—the term embracing all the territory between Michigan and Utah, it was announced at the White House today.

The President informed callers of selection of a site had yet been made that numerous places are now being considered, and that final selection would fall upon the place that offered the best advantages in elevation and coolness.

Crittenden—About 20 pupils of the public school here were absent from classes today because the bus which conveys them here from rural districts crashed down a hillside late Tuesday.

About 30 children in the vehicle narrowly escaped serious injury when the driver reacting to a mechanical trouble in the car had caused him to lose control of it, warned the pupils to jump.
