ADVOCATES HUGE GOSPEL CIRCUIT

Would Sponsor Gigantic Circuit For Evangelism With Woman As Head

Tampa, Fla.—"If the amusement of humanity is important enough to bring into existence an immense system like Keith circuits, the salvation of humanity should be important enough to warrant a plan such as I suggest," said E. H. Cadle here today in discussing a project sponsoring a $100,000,000 revival circuit with Mrs. Aimee McPherson noted Los Angeles evangelist as head.

Cadle built the Gospel tabernacle at Indianapolis and has been prominently identified with revival work. No direct offer has been made to Mrs. McPherson, he said.

The plan is he conceives it involves a "Revival wheel", with tabernacles in all important centers and organized parties of revivalists in all important centers and parties making the circuit regularly. Mrs. McPherson, Billy Sunday, Gypsy Smith and other evangelists of note are mentioned as "topliners" by Cadle.

Mrs. McPherson declares that "the world needs some such plan of systematic evangelism as Cadle outlines."

LADIES AID MEETS

Last Thursday, March 10, the Ladies Aid of the Greenville Creek Church met at the home of Mrs. Percy Patty at Circle Hill.

Early in the morning the ladies began to arrive and until noon 24 ladies had arrived. Rev. Bailey and Mr. Patty also enjoyed the delicious pot luck dinner.

The afternoon was spent in a business meeting, singing songs, sewing and a good social time.

WANTED-To trade for small farm a good site for Hotel and Garage on highway in good locality. Plenty of good buildings. J. S. Snider, Brookville, Ohio

Late News Flashes

(L. N. S. Dispatch)

Middletown-Dillard Smith, 16, is awaiting hearing in the juvenile court here on a complaint of an 11-year-old girl. He is charged with contributing to her delinquency.

Sidney-Rev. Edgar Schuh formerly of Lima, has resigned his pastorate at Arcanum to accept a call to the Lutheran church at New Orleans, La.

Youngstown, O.-Mrs. George DeBoles, 28, is dead today as the result of a wound sustained Sunday when she stepped in front of a bullet intended for her husband, who police say was fleeing from a crap game.

Osborn-Frank Adams was scheduled to be tried here Wednesday on a charge of cutting Frank Rust, 22, a baseball player recently signed on the Springfield team. Adams claimed he used his knife in self-defense. Rust, slashed three times is in a Dayton hospital.

New York-Mary C. Gabell, 16, who has been missing since Wednesday, was found early today at Lake George in the Adirondacks. Her identity was betrayed when she inquired from the station agent there the price of a ticket to Hollywood. She was determined, she said, to have a career in the movies.

Wapakoneta-This county will be called upon to pay $100 to J. H. Meyer of Lima, owner of the Valley Hills Fox Farm, for the killing of a goat by a stray building, which in turn was killed by Harry Russell on his farm, which adjoins the fox farm. He found the dog killing the goat, a valuable imported animal from Canada.

Hamilton, O.-Michael Foley, 22, was being held here today in connection with the slaying early this morning of James Mites, 58 and his daughter, Catherine, 21.

Police said that a murder charge had been placed against Mites, but that he had not been fully questioned in connection with the killing.

Hamilton-A double funeral was held here this afternoon for Mrs. Martha Hunter, of Mt. Vernon, Ill. and Mrs. Mary McDaniel, sisters who met tragic deaths. Mrs. Hunter was killed by her husband who committed suicide. Mrs. McDaniels went to Mt. Vernon to accompany her sisters body here and died of apoplexy while there. Bodies of both arrived here Sunday.

Dayton-Rudolph Umlauf, 38, a resident of Dayton, was in possession of some valuable information today, which cost him $100.

Rudolph arraigned in municipal court on a charge of unlawful possession of whiskey, offered an unique alibi.

He told Judge Powell that he did not know it was a violation of the law to drink whiskey or to possess it. The court explained about the more or less well-known Volstead act to Rudolph, and imposed the $100 fine to make the explanation impressive.

Cleveland-John Perkins, 13, is dead and Miss Marie Shirley, 26, is in Mt. Sinai Hospital critically injured today as the result of a traffic accident here last night.

In a vain effort to avoid hitting Perkins, who was riding a bicycle, the driver of the auto swerved the machine into the curb, knocking Miss Shirley to the side walk.

Roy Hughes, driver of the auto is held by police on a charge of reckless driving.

Perkins is a son of Dr. Roger G. Perkins, well-known surgeon and professor of medicine at Western Reserve.

Huntington, W. Va.-Fourteen saddle horses, including five valuable show animals which had been exhibited at Madison Square Garden and numerous other large horse shows, were burned to death here today, in a fire which swept the stables of N. K. Speed, prominent horse fancier, in Kellogg, a suburb.

Among the animals killed were American Maid; Gold Crown; Bohemian Princess; Catherine Rex and McGintie, all valuable exhibition animals familiar to horse-lovers, a large animal at $40,000. The loss is estimated at $40,000. The origin of the fire has not been determined. There was no one in the stables when the fire broke out.

Washington-The segregation law of Louisiana under which white and negro communities are established was held invalid by the Supreme court today.

Benjamin Harmon alleged that the New Orleans ordinance and the state law upon which it was based violated the 14th amendment to the federal constitution giving negroes equal protection of the law.

Under the New Orleans ordinance, a majority of the residents on any street determined whether it was to be a "white" or "negro" community. A building permit was refused Benjamin Harmon on the ground that he was converting a house in a white community into a "double cottage", to be rented to negroes.

STUDENT SUICIDES MEAN NOTHING

Clarence Darrow Thinks the Suicide Wave is Caused by Too Much Publicity

Washington-Student suicides are not significant enough to worry about Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer declared today.

"So far as the cause in concerned, I think it is the power of suggestion brought about by too much publicity," he said. "The young are quick to become despondent. If they want some thing bad and can't get it today, they don't stop to think about next year. They read of the suicides of others and it is only a natural impulse that, coupled with this suggestion creates the thought to go with the others."

Darrow declared there is no danger of American plays or literature corrupting the public.

"I am against censorship for literature and the stage," he said. "It is a situation that will adjust itself. If a play goes beyond all limits of decency the public will stay away, or if they keep going, isn't it a sign that that's what the public wants."

Toledo, O.-Toledo police officials today are confident Toledo's mysterious clubber is again starting his operations here his latest attack took place early this morning when, leaping from behind a tree in a dark street, he sprang at Mrs. Hazel Spense, 28.

Mrs. Spense saw the man's shadow as he sprang. She screamed, and ran toward her home, the clubber fiend pursuing her. As her husband opened the door she collapsed from fright and exhaustion.

A posse of neighbors and police were organized. They searched for hours but the marauder, as usual, made his getaway.

Mrs. Spense is in a critical condition from shock as a result of her experience. She described her would-be assailant as being of powerful build and wearing dark clothes.

Federal Building, Detroit-With Justice smiling upon him for the second time in as many days, Henry Ford won another round today in the $1,000,000 libel suit brought against him by Aaron Repko, Chicago attorney.

The point was won when Federal Judge Fred S. Raymond Overruled a motion by attorney for Repko to eliminate Ford's "lies for justification" on the ground it violated an earlier court order.

FORMER CONVICT TELLS OF BIG PLOT

Nathan Leopold Thought to Have Been "Brain" of Gigantic Plot to Poison Guards

Joliet, Ill.-While the search for Bernardo Ros, only missing member of the Joliet break gang, led into Indiana and Michigan, authorities today were to question Nathan F. Leopold Jr., whom they believe might have been the "brains" and financial backer of a gigantic guard poisoning scheme and plot to liberate more than 1,200 convicts confined in the Joliet penitentiary.

Acting on confidential information from inmates of Mexican poolrooms, detectives were dispatched to Detroit where Ros's brother lives, in the belief the condemned murderer may seek refuge in Canada before trying to return to Mexico.

Half a dozen persons questioned individually today named Leopold as the ringleader of the jail delivery plot.

According to State's attorney Hjalmar Rehn vast quantities of arms were to be smuggled into the prison and into the hands of convict cooks, with a view to poisoning all guards next Saturday.

With the guards incapacitated, the 1,200 prisoners were to make the break for freedom.

Leo Delgado of Chicago, paroled from the penitentiary last December told officials of the plot.

Because of his official capacity as kitchen warden and translator of all messages sent to him and from the prison written in Spanish Delgado learned of it.

Delgado said he knew of the original plot last May which resulted in the escape of seven convicts and the killing of deputy warden Peter Klein. Six of them were sentenced to hang. The seventh has never been recaptured. Of the six Bernardo Ros was the only one at liberty today.

"Leopold planned and worked out that scheme," Delgado said under oath. "From outside he obtained $3,000 to finance the work. He and three Mexicans, and Stalesky, Duckowski and Shadr were to flee to Detroit, to Ros's brother."

"Leopold balked at the scheme because Klein was killed. He told me afterward that he could not stand the sight of blood."

It was his same Leopold, who sent a "thrill" dragged Bobbie Fenton into their auto and murdered her.

Warren J. Lincoln, former horticulturist of Aurora, Ill., murdered his wife and brother, causing their heads into a cement tank.

Lincoln, according to Delgado, in his position as clerk at the penitentiary allowed Leopold's men to reach outside friends.

"A convict named Harry Leo Delgado said, 'Come to me and I'll threaten to kill you unless I get the letters go out. I did. What could I do?'"

"Leopold got put into solitary confinement for a minor infraction of the rules because it was much easier to break out of the solitary building. That's why Leopold didn't go with the rest."

In return for their not mentioning his name Leopold promised to finance another break in the event the six murders were sentenced to hang, according to Delgado.

Carlos Stepien, formerly one of Chicago's most notorious bandits and now a convict cook at the penitentiary was declared to have been the one named as the proposed poisoner.

The arsenic it was said, was to have been placed in salt cellars used by guards and officials.

Twenty-two ladies of the Mission Study Class of the Lutheran Sunday School, met in the Church parlors last evening in a farewell party to Mrs. George Drees who will leave soon for her new home in Tipppecanoe City.

After the supper the time was spent in a social manner. The class presented Mrs. Drees with a picture as a farewell gift, regretting to lose her as one of themselves.

Daily Columbus Letter

Columbus, Ohio.—Unless automobile owners of the state cancel their protest with their Senator or Representative in no uncertain terms they are liable to find themselves added financial burdens. The present General Assembly is showing such a friendly disposition to the utility and other corporations that they hesitate about taking any money from their large earnings, but to make the deficit which must be assessed upon some one to meet the state expenses, have about decided to pass it on to the auto owners. If they do it means a twofold benefit to the bus, traction railroad lines of the State. It means that they will not only be able to keep all their large earnings, but these earnings will be increased because rural residents will find it cheaper to patronize them than operate their own automobile. The proposed 100 percent increase in the gasoline tax means that it is going to cost thousands of auto owners one cent tax for every mile they travel.
Add to this depreciation, and other cost of operation it is readily seen that the excess over railroad fare of three cents per mile is so attractive that thousands will leave their cars in the garage and patronize utilities. It has been estimated that outside the eight larger counties of the State there are not more than 200 residents in each county financially interested in utilities. Against this there are almost a million who own automobiles. Added gasoline tax means favoring the classes against the masses. It means adding a burden to a million and a half Ohioans who are now taxed on their automobiles to the 10 cent. At the same time it means increased earnings with no increase in taxes to the utilities. The Ohio State Automobile Club with its thousands of members is doing its utmost in the interest of the auto owners of the State in general, but the rural auto owner must realize that this 100 percent increase in the gasoline tax means to them, and enter protest forthwith if the unfair measure is decided.

Damage estimated anywhere from a half to a million dollars has been done to improved highways of the state during the past winter because of the most abnormal weather conditions known to modern road building. Efforts are being made by the State highway department to keep all roads open to traffic, but it has been one of the hardest jobs that has tackled in a long time. Floods, thaw and freezes have caused serious wash outs and damage. Concrete roads have suffered most and many miles of these will have to be reconstructed.
But even with the damage greater than ever before to these improved highways, it is held that the money from the gasoline tax will be several times greater than can possibly be used in maintenance and repairs, and there will be considerable revenue left which can be used for building new roads should the present General Assembly make it possible to use the money for other than maintenance purposes. Damage to brick paved highways has not been nearly so extensive as other types of roadway.

A solution to the present issue of raising additional funds to meet the needs of the state for its operation purposes has been suggested by Chas.
C. Jones, secretary of the Ohio State Automobile Club, which has met with an unusual funds for state government cost should be adjusted with equity to all by placing a one half mill upon every piece of property, whether farm or city, automobile, firm, corporation, public utility or anything else of value in order to put this tax in equal proportion. The state by so doing would not be held up as a territory to avoid in the creation of new industries, and we would move in the even tenor or our way. Of course, as an adjunct to this retrenching movement we should not alone be careful of what we collect, but even more careful of how we spend what is collected.

While Eastern time will be the official time in Ohio 90 days from March 7, or June 7, it is expected that the time change will be made effective about June 1. Passage of the bill and its signing by Governor Vic Donahey isn't going to affect:
many sections of the State, as Eastern time has been in vogue for some time. A few countries in which Central standard time is still being used will change May, others April so that by the time the bill becomes effective or June there will be very few clocks to change.

Hamilton, O.—A family quarrel was blamed by police today for the murder early this morning of Frank Mitts, 53, and his 23 year old daughter, Mrs. Catherine Mitts Foley.
Michael Foley, 24, estranged husband of the murdered woman, a local prize-fighter, was being questioned by detectives today in connection with the crime. Foley was arrested several hours after the killing.

The police version of the affair was that a man entered the Mitts' home about 1 o'clock this morning and opened fire with a shotgun, killing Mrs.
Foley with one barrage of shots, and then wounding her father, so badly that he died shortly thereafter.

Who Is Sapiro?

Like Ford, He Raised Himself By
His Own Determination

Aaron Sapiro, like his present legal enemy, started life unhandicapped by excessive wealth. This picture shows him as he looks today.

Federal Building, Detroit.—The most amazing civil trial in recent years got under way in Federal Court here today with the drawing of the first jury to sit in judgment on the $1,000,000 libel suit brought against Henry Ford by Aaron Sapiro, noted attorney and agricultural organizer.

Sapiro sued America's first millionaire for a million dollars damage on the ground that he was libeled by articles published in Ford's Dearborn Independent. The case grew directly out of Ford's campaign against the Jews, which was diverted into a steady hammering upon Sapiro's nation wide activities in organizing farmer's cooperatives. The trial will describe an arc that staggers the imagination. The issue, already drawn involves the history of cooperative marketing throughout America, alleged communistic movements in the West, the field of national politics and lastly the freedom of the press.

As court convened, Federal Judge Fred S. Raymond was prepared to render an opinion on a motion by Sapiro's attorneys to eliminate Ford's "Plea of Justification" on the ground it did not support the auto king's charges. With the plea eliminated, it was said, only a legal miracle could save Ford from losing the case and his defense would have to be based on generalities.

The ramifications of the trial will extend into every state of the Union while scores of political leaders will become involved. The articles, which attacked Sapiro, also named Frank O. Lowden, Julius Rosenwald, Eugene Meyer, Jr., Bernard M. Baruch, Otto Kahn and Albert D. Lasker as his associates in the cooperative movements. The articles specifically charged that a Jewish ring sought to implant communistic theories in the minds of American farmers.

The case has cost Sapiro a fortune so far while reports were current here that Ford had spent $1,000,000 preparing his defense. The auto king incidentally could settle for six cents by admitting the libel but he decided to fight the case to a finish. The suit was filed two years ago, testimony had been taken in a dozen states since then and the trial probably will last a month.

The presence of Senator James A. Reed of Mo., of Bush farm fame, as one of Ford's attorneys lent color to the case. Reed however remained in the background during the preliminary hearings.

The whereabouts of Ford, who was called as a witness by Sapiro, also became a topic of interest. Defense counsel said they would produce Ford if the court ordered him to attend as a witness against himself. Sapiro's attorneys said they would have him adjudged in contempt if he did not appear. There the matter rested for the moment.

Sapiro brought the suit upon 21 counts and specified 141 instances, in which he alleged Ford libeled him in the Dearborn Independent.

Some of the more pungent statements, cited by Sapiro, follow:

1. Some of those who exposed conditions under the Sapiro plan have been terrified into silence by their Jewish masters.

2. Millions of dollars were lost through the Sapiro plan.

3. It costs money to know Aaron Sapiro. The American wheat farmers of four northwestern states are just beginning to find out that it costs them approximately $2,000,000 annually in 1921, 1922 and 1923 to make his acquaintance.

4. The plan of the Jewish ring which is exploiting the American farmer, is to form first local then state, then sectional then national associations of the producers of each crop in the United States.

5. Every American farmer, fruit grower, cattle raiser, dairyman or other producer, who is a member of one of the cooperative market associations devised controlled and operated by the Sapiro Jewish ring, is losing or has lost money rightfully belonging to him.

6. Time—the great detective in the universe—is slowly telling the truth about Baruch, Lasker, Sapiro and the rest of these gentlemen making up that unnamed organization which is so successfully doing the farmer good.

7. Wherever the Jew appears, or his gentle henchman, promoting associations for the benefit of the American farmer in these states (Idaho, Washington, Oregon) there appears as their lieutenants the radicals, Industrial Workers of the World, even open adherents of Communism and Bolshevism, as the strong arm men to put the work on hesitant farmers.

8. It may be only a coincidence that the line of agricultural control in this country runs from Otto Kahn and Bernard M. Baruch down through Aaron Sapiro and lesser Jews.

9. It is a story list of all for those who are beginning to see the truth behind the Jewish exploitation of the American farmer—the truth that the whole Kahn-Baruch-Lasker-Rosenwald-Sapiro ring is carefully plotted to turn over to an organized international interest the entire agricultural industry of this republic.

10. Between the lines one reads the

It May Not Be Right, but Left-Handed May Be Right Handy, Too

Mary Weiser (left), by virtue of being left-handed has a job of testing lights which a right-handed person could not hold down. The picture shows why. Like Babe Ruth (right), she finds that being a "leftie" is no handicap in life.

LEFTHANDEDNESS—asset or liability?

Asset, would say Babe Ruth and other successful southpaws of the diamond whose position at the bat is credited with rattling most pitchers.

Asset, says Mary Weiser, New York girl. Her non-conformity with most of the rest of the human race has just given her a job others could not fill.

A corporation manufacturing electric lamps procured a machine which tests lamps at the rate of 30,000 a day. It required one person to sit at each side. Girls assigned to work one side were found to be slower than girls on the other side. These the reason was discovered. One side must be fed with the left hand.

That was where Mary came in. And she showed that she could test more than her quota of globes.

Lefthandedness is generally considered a handicap. Mechanical contrivances are constructed for right-handed persons. Left-handers must buy special golf clubs. Manipulation of knives and forks is twice as difficult for them.

Victor Hugo said: "The left-handed are precious. They take places the others cannot." Few school boards believe that. Regardless of early inclinations, school pupils are generally taught to write with their right hands.

Lefthanded persons are at a disadvantage in a one-arm lunch room. They must operate their emergency automobile brakes with their weakest arm. In the army they must carry their guns on their weakest side. Some fashionable restaurants refuse to hire lefthanded waiters because their trays might crash with those of the righthanders in narrow passageways and because they might be awkward in serving the guests.

It might seem that southpaws are at a disadvantage.

But ask Babe Ruth or Mary Weiser before you make up your mind.

story of the Jewish communistic movement in America, which seeks to make of these United States what is has already made of Russia.

11 As much of the millions of dollars of losses which the farmers have sustained under the Sapiro plan is due to the ignorance, incompetence and downright dishonesty of these Jew-serving gentiles as is due to the worthlessness of the plan itself or to the dishonesty of the Jews promoting it.

12 The Jewish power in the United States is now seeking to control, educate and exploit, to its own present and future profit, every boy and girl on the nearly 7,000,000 farms in this country.

Sapiro charged all these statements libeled him. In his plea of Justification Ford either declared the statements were not libelous in character or else that he would prove them to be the truth.

Mrs. Burton Advises Women on Motherhood and Companionship

"For several years I was denied the blessing of motherhood," writes Mrs. Margaret, Burton of Kansas City. "I was terribly nervous and subject to periods of terrible suffering and melancholy. Now I am the proud mother of a beautiful little daughter and a true companion and inspiration to my husband. I believe hundreds of other women would like to know the secret of my happiness, and I will gladly reveal it to any married woman who will write me." Mrs. Burton offers her advice entirely without charge. She has nothing to sell. Letters should be addressed to Mrs. Margaret Burton, 5187 Massachusetts, Kansas City, Mo. Correspondence will be strictly confidential—Adv.

News Flashes

(L. N. S. Dispatch)

Washington — President Coolidge kept a cabinet meeting waiting for half an hour today while he discussed politics with Senator Fess of Ohio.

What political opinions Mr. Coolidge expressed, if any, were not revealed, but Fess said later that "if present prosperity continues no man living can defeat Calvin Coolidge in 1928."

Canton, O.—Stark county prosecutor Henry Harter Jr. will meet detective Ora Slater, of Cincinnati, in Columbus today, where an attempt will be made to obtain information from Pat McDermott, convicted gunman in the Don Mellett murder here last July, who is now serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary.

Although McDermott has made no requests for the interview it is believed the opportunity is ripe and that Pat will talk when confronted with certain excerpts of Louis Mazer's immunity confession, given the Stark County Grand Jury a week ago today.

Mazer was the third man indicted for first degree murder in connection with the Mellett killing.

Georgetown, O.—Authorities here today believed they were near the solution of the mysterious murder of Mrs. Mayme McGee, 50, of Mt. Orab, near here, who died Sunday of knife wounds without disclosing the name of her slayer.

Robert Kinney, operative of the Cal Orin-Paul Ryan Detective Bureau of Cincinnati, who has been officially assigned to the case, told international news service today that considerable progress had been made in the investigation.

"A man being held on suspicion in connection with the killing has admitted that he was riding with Mrs. McGee on Saturday night," Kinney stated.

"He said that he gave her a knife to trim her finger nails and that a little while later she gave it back to him," Kinney stated.

"The man stated that Mrs. McGee having borrowed the knife while they were riding, appeared ill as they drove home," the Cincinnati Detective said.

Stains believed by Kinney to be blood stains, have been found on the back seat of the suspect's automobile. Coroner G. M. Tyler, Jr. said today, that severe bruises found in many places on the dead woman's body indicated that she participated in a terrific struggle.

Mrs. McGee was found, bleeding profusely from a deep knife wound, by her husband, Louis McGee, when he returned from work Saturday.

Hamilton, O.—Michael Foley, 22, was held here today on two charges of murder following their laying of his estranged wife, Mrs. Catherine Mitts Foley, 21, and her father Frank Mitts, 53, early this morning.

The slaying was declared by police to have been the culmination of a family quarrel.

According to police, a man appeared at the Mitts' home where Mrs. Foley had been staying, about 1:00 o'clock this morning and "dared anyone to come outside."

Frank Mitts went to the door and was felled by a blast from a shotgun in the man's hands.

The man then jumped over Mitts' prostrate form and ran into the house and fired a volley into Mrs. Foley's body.

The gun failed to explode police said when the slayer attempted to shoot Mrs. Mitts, wife of the slain man.

Police declared that Foley, an amateur boxer, admitted the shooting but was unable to offer a connected account of it.

A note found in the accused man's pocket bore the message: "This is the end of life," Detective stated.

Columbus, O.—Fifteen year old Mary O'Hara, is in Mt. Carmel Hospital with a self inflicted bullet wound near her heart. According to police reports the girl attempted suicide today because of her recent poor grades in High School. Her condition is critical, the Hospital reported.

JOHNNY HINES IN BROWN DERBY IS BIG LAUGH

People who enjoy a good laugh will not want to miss Johnny Hines in "The Brown Derby" which is just one big roar after another, according to the advance notices.

This laugh provoking comedian is to be on the screen at the Favorite Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

The picture is adapted from the musical comedy hit by Brian Marlowe and the story is by Bert Wheeler.

This rising generation of agent which you hear so many complaints got many of its faults from associating with its parents.

About the only people who suffer in silence are those who suffer when required to remain silent.
